'We May be Forced to Defend Ourselves,' Chiang States

HOPING FOR PEACE

Japanese Threaten 'Independent Action' if Firing Continues

Tientsin.—(AP)—Japanese army headquarters tonight issued an ultimatum giving the Chinese 29th army until noon tomorrow (10 p. m. C. S. T., tonight) to cease all alleged attacks on Japanese patrols and fulfill yesterday's verbal agreement to withdraw their troops from the disputed area west of Peiping. The ultimatum followed an earlier Japanese announcement that a Chinese patrol fired late today on Japanese troops near Lukou-chiao, west of Peiping.

Kuling, China.—(AP)—General Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the Chinese central government, declared today it is up to Japan to decide whether there will be a "major war between China and Japan."

In his first public statement since the Sino-Japanese crisis began, the Chinese leader said his nation does not want war but added "we may be forced to defend ourselves."

He painted a grave picture of the situation in an address before a convention of China's educational and technical leaders.

"If we allow one inch more of our territory to be lost we will be guilty of committing an unpardonable offense against our race," Chiang said.

"At this solemn moment, Japan will have to decide whether the Wanching incident (the first clear near Peiping July 7) will result in a major war between Japan and China."

"Whether there is the least vestige of hope for peace between the two nations depends upon actions of the Japanese army."

Tokio.—(AP)—A Domei (Japanese) news agency dispatch from Tientsin tonight said the Japanese army command there had served a virtual ultimatum on the Chinese military, declaring it would "take independent action" unless all Chinese firing against Japanese ceased immediately.

This threat followed a renewal of fighting in the zone west of Peiping, where Japanese and Chinese troops have been in intermittent conflict since July 7.

Japanese military reports said Chinese soldiers making a concrete pillbox near Lukouchiao, on the Yungting river 10 miles west of Peiping, fired on a Japanese detachment, gravely wounding Captain Mitsutoshi Yamazaki.

The attitude of the Japanese command was described in dispatches as the most determined it has yet assumed in the North China crisis.

Ready for Action
Its grim notice to the Chinese was said to declare that unless all Chinese firing ceased, the Japanese would begin action Tuesday, presumably any time after midnight (11 a. m. Monday, E. S. T.).

(Another Japanese version was that the deadline was set at noon Tuesday (10 p. m. Monday, C.S.T.). Japanese army leaders were reported to regard the situation as extremely grave and to consider the new clash violated the local oral settlement reached by military leaders of the two sides at Tientsin Sunday.

It is near Lukouchiao that the first Sino-Japanese clash of the present crisis occurred 12 days ago.

The Chinese government vigorously protested to Japan today that Japanese scouting planes had machine-gunned Chinese troops and supply trains in Hopeh province, violating China's territorial sovereignty.

The Chinese counter-charge came but a short time after the Japanese government had officially accused China of aggravating the tense North China crisis by a direct aggression against Japanese interests.

England Asks Rebels to Free Captured Ship

Ambassador Presents Demand to Spanish Insurgent Leader

FRANCO IS WARNED

Will be Held Responsible For Any Damage to Freighter

London.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, disclosed to the house of commons today that Great Britain has demanded that Spanish insurgents release the captured British merchantman Molton.

Eden said the demand was sent to insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco through Sir Herbert Chilton, British ambassador to Spain who is at Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish border.

The demand, he said, warned General Franco that Britain would hold him responsible for any damage to the freighter.

Alfred Duff Cooper, first lord of the admiralty, announced last Wednesday that the British ship had been captured by the insurgent cruiser Almirante Cervera.

The admiralty office said the Molton was stopped inside Spanish territorial waters trying to reach Santander, major insurgent objective on the bay of Biscay.

2 British Warships Leave
Two British warships steamed out from St. Jean de Luz, France, today after the admiralty announced a British merchantman, the Candeston Castle, had been "captured by an insurgent warship inside Spanish territorial waters."

An admiralty spokesman denied, however, the sudden departure of the battleship Royal Oak and the destroyer Basilisk, which were connected with the British ship's capture.

The Candeston Castle, which formerly sailed under the name of Seven Seas Spray, was captured Saturday and was understood to be under convoy of insurgent warships to Ferrol on the north Spanish coast.

The vessel's owners received a telegram from the captain saying he and the crew were safe, but the message did not state the ship's position or whether it still was in insurgent hands.

Drunken Driver Runs Onto Lawn

Rural Resident Fined $50 And Costs in Municipal Court

Accused of driving his automobile onto a lawn at Shiocion, Joe Zuleger, 30, route 2, Pulaski, pleaded guilty of drunken driving when he was arraigned in the municipal court of Judge Thomas H. Ryan this morning.

He was fined $50 and costs with an alternative of 60 days in the county detention camp and his driver's license was ordered revoked for one year. He had not paid the fine shortly before noon today.

Zuleger was arrested by a county motorcycle patrolman at Shiocion Sunday.

Man Fatally Wounded In Shooting Accident

Sheboygan.—(AP)—Raymond J. Voss, 29-year-old credit officer of the Phoenix Chair Co., was shot and killed accidentally yesterday by a friend at Wilke's lake.

District Attorney John R. Cashman of Manitowish county, in which the lake is located, said William Freiherr, the friend, told him he had been target shooting with a .22 caliber revolver.

Freiherr said he was placing the weapon in an automobile. Voss, in lifting up a seat to help him, Freiherr said, struck his elbow. The weapon discharged and the bullet passed through Voss' body.

Illinois Man Accused Of Murdering Widow

Joliet, Ill.—(AP)—Angelo Audi, 46, was charged with murder today after several hours after the fatal slaying of his companion, Mrs. Minnie Bianconi, 32, a widow of nearby Steger, Ill. He had told authorities two men in a car accosted them, cut his throat, chased him away, and then killed Mrs. Bianconi.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas Wise of Will county said discovery in Audi's rooming house of a razor similar to one used in killing the woman "cleared up the mystery."

Glenn Frank Purchases Home in Madison Suburb

Madison.—(AP)—Glenn Frank's house-hunting worries were at an end today. The former University of Wisconsin president, who is re-entering the magazine field as editor of Rural Progress, announced he had arranged to purchase the Harry French home in suburban Maple Bluff for $40,000. Dr. Frank said he considered the purchase "a bargain" since the house cost French, an insurance company executive, $50,000.

Piccard Planning Flight to Stratosphere in Aircraft Made Up of Small Balloons

Rochester, Minn.—(AP)—Dr. Jean Piccard announced today he expected to make a stratosphere flight in a new type aircraft made up of many small balloons which his ascension yesterday proved is practical.

Piccard returned here today after he made a tree-top landing at Lansing, Iowa, six hours after his Pleiades soared 11,000 feet into the air. The trial flight was made with 95 four-foot sounding balloons, such as are used in weather observations.

Piccard said he was looking for sponsors for a flight in a similar craft, made up of two clusters of the rubber balloons, which would be made one year after financial help was assured. He said his wife would go along on the next trip.

Lansing, Iowa.—(AP)—His equipment ruined and much of his multi-balloon aircraft in ashes, Dr. Jean Piccard today pondered the outcome of his six-hour flight from Rochester, Minn., which ended in his landing near here Sunday.

The Swiss-born veteran of several successful stratosphere flights studied the results of his first adventure in the new type craft and sought to determine whether the 95 four-foot rubber balloons he used were more satisfactory than the conventional one-bag type.

Should he conclude that the multi-balloon craft is superior, he will attempt a flight into the stratosphere at a later date, using 2,000 of the balloons.

The data he had hoped to record on the instruments he carried was destroyed by flames which burst out as he landed. Piccard was not injured.

Mrs. Piccard expressed the opinion the fire started when the TNT charge, used to loose the lower cluster of balloons, ignited the rope joining them to the gondola. The rope, she said, dropped into the gondola.

He took off in his strange craft from Rochester at 12:08 a. m. Sunday and drifted gradually southeastward, landing at 6 a. m., nine miles from here, or about 110 miles from Rochester. He reached a height of 11,000 feet.

The ground crew lost contact with the balloonist, who carried an ultra-short wave radio transmitter in his gondola, about 3 a. m. Sunday.

The crew moved to Lanesboro and then to Caledonia, Minn., about 75 miles from Rochester, in unsuccessful efforts to re-establish communication with him. Radio stations, airplanes and telephone systems joined in the hunt for the missing scientist early Sunday, but the first word from him came when he calmly informed his wife, waiting at Rochester, that he had landed.

House Approves Bill To Bar Alien Workers

Washington.—(AP)—The house today approved a bill under which no alien could hold a government job unless the officer who appointed him certified that no qualified citizen was available for the work. The measure would not apply to aliens in the military service prior to Dec. 31, 1937, nor to instructors in foreign languages at service schools.

The bill now goes to the senate. Since so many of its members made the journey to Arkansas for the Robinson funeral, that body was not in session today.

Faces Grand Jury Action In Counterfeiting Case

Milwaukee.—(AP)—James Haley, 38, Franksville, was bound over today to the federal grand jury on charges of possessing, passing and using counterfeit money.

He was placed under bond of $1,000 after a hearing before United States Commissioner Floyd E. Jenkins.

Frank Schultz, 54, who lived with Haley, waived preliminary hearing a week ago. He was charged with possessing and passing counterfeit coins and was held in jail after he failed to post $1,000 bond.

FUND BILL PASSED

Washington.—(AP)—The house passed and sent to the senate today a bill to authorize a $21,460,000 contract for construction and rehabilitation program at military posts and forts in the United States, Panama and Hawaii.

Navy Abandons Search for Amelia And Noonan; Ships Sail for Home

Honolulu.—(AP)—The mystery of Amelia Earhart lay locked in the silent watery wastes of the vast Pacific today.

Four naval vessels and the 1,500 weary men who sought her and her navigator 16 days gave them up for dead and sailed for home.

More than 250,000 square miles of equatorial ocean, reefs and islands were scoured by ship and plane in an almost hopeless search for the couple-haired aviatrix and her companion, Captain Frederick I. Noonan, who dropped from sight July 2.

Somewhere near the dot which is Howland Island, Miss Earhart and Noonan dropped from the skies in their fuelless land plane on a 2570-mile flight from Lae, New Guinea to the mid-Pacific sandspit.

The 39-year-old woman flier, known the world over for her aviation exploits, was circling the earth "just for fun," she said, but also to blaze possible new commercial routes.

The closing order for the search crushed the last hope of rescue held by George Palmer Putnam, motion picture executive husband of Miss Earhart, who obtained leave from his duties to further her world-flight plans.

"I am deeply appreciative of what the navy has done," the grief-stricken husband declared in Los Angeles. "That is all I can say."

Roosevelt May Delay Filling Court Vacancy

Some Congress Members Think He Wants Vote On Measure First

STAND NOT KNOWN

Recess Appointment Might Be Challenged on Constitutional Grounds

Washington.—(AP)—Some legislators expressed the belief today President Roosevelt wants to wait until after the court bill controversy before appointing a successor to Supreme Court Justice Van Devanter.

If congress should adjourn shortly after the court fight ends or is put aside, they pointed out, senate confirmation might be held up. Not every confirmation is voted quickly.

A recess appointment after adjournment of congress is not without precedent, but observers said it might be embarrassing if the senate later refused to approve the nominee.

The constitution provides that the president "shall have the power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions which shall expire at the end of their next session."

Some authorities have contended this provision means that if the vacancy occurs while the senate is in session—as was true in the case of Justice Van Devanter—a recess appointment after adjournment is not possible.

Many persons in Washington told the opinion that Mr. Roosevelt intended to appoint the late Senator Robinson of Arkansas to the vacancy. Senate confirmation probably would have been speedy, for most of Robinson's colleagues had urged his selection.

Among those whose names frequently had been mentioned in connection with an appointment to the high court are Attorney General Cummings, Solicitor General Stanley Reed; Chairman James M. Landis of the securities exchange commission; Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan; Justice Miller of the board of tax appeals; Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand B. Ford of New York; Judge Learned Hand of the second circuit court of appeals; and Samuel Rosenman of New York.

Peewaukee, Wis.—(AP)—Three Milwaukee persons drowned in Peewaukee lake late Saturday when their speedboat overturned. Two of the passengers were rescued. The dead:

Mrs. Howard Herden, Tony Baumgartner, and Margaret Iger. Each was 19 years old.

William Hoehnen, owner of the boat, and Howard Herden, 21, both of Peewaukee, were rescued.

Witnesses said the rear end of the boat submerged and threw the occupants into the water.

Two Trustees Walk Away From State Prison Farm

Rhineland.—(AP)—Two prisoners at the McNaughton state prison farm northwest of here walked away this morning, officials reported today. It was the second time within a month that a "break" has been made at the camp, one man having disappeared two weeks ago. The men were Alan Klink, 24, and Edward Patvines, 26, an Indian.

All inmates at the prison camp are trustees on their "honor" while working at the farm.

Jump to Safety When Train Hits Automobile

Mauston, Wis.—(AP)—Two Cazenovia Wis. couples narrowly escaped death last night when their automobile stalled on the Milwaukee railroad track just as a freight train was approaching the crossing here. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Albert McCarthy jumped from the car. The machine was demolished.

Wouldbe Assassin Is Killed by Bomb Blast

Marsaw.—(AP)—An attempt to assassinate Colonel Adam Koc, leader of the Polish nationalist movement, failed late last night, it was learned today, when the bomb exploded prematurely and tore the assassin to pieces.

The attempt on the Polish leader's life was made shortly before midnight at his villa in the little village of Swidry, not far from Warsaw. The assassin was said to have made his way into the garden of the villa with a powerful explosive.

Despite the magnitude of the search, not a single casualty was reported. The cost of the search was not estimated but unofficially was set at several hundred thousand dollars.

Numerous radio messages received in all points in the Pacific sometimes bolstered the hopes of the searchers but apparently none was authentic.

Court Bill Foes Seek Senate Vote Early This Week

Want to Send It Back to Committee to Sidetrack It

MAY ACT TOMORROW

New York Governor Asks Wagner to Oppose Measure

Aboard Special Congressional Train.—(AP)—Opponents of the president's court bill announced today they would seek a senate vote on that bitterly-fought issue early this week.

Senator Burke (D-Neb.), a leader of the opposition, said a motion to send the supreme court reorganization measure back to committee for further study probably would be made tomorrow, and added:

"We are confident we can carry the motion by a comfortable margin."

His announcement was virtually the first public statement on the court controversy made by any member of the congressional delegation which accompanied the body of Senator Robinson (D-Ariz.) to his Little Rock home for burial.

Ending the political truce declared immediately after the senate Democratic leader's death last Wednesday, Burke's statement indicated the five-month struggle over the judiciary legislation was nearing its end.

Would Shelve Bill
If the motion to recommit the bill is carried, it would effectually bury the measure for the rest of this session. Its defeat, many senators agreed, might bring a speedy collapse of the opposition, which expects to muster its greatest strength on the recommitment motion.

Burke's challenge was quickly accepted by Senator Minn. (D-Ind.), one of the court bill's most vigorous defenders, who declared:

"We are ready to vote any time and I know that we can win."

Other opposition leaders privately agreed with Burke's prediction that "a vote would come a few hours after this special train" carrying 39 senators reaches Washington.

Caucus in Car
Foes of the bill scheduled a club-car caucus for this evening when they will work out final details of their strategy. It will be attended by Burke, Senators Wheeler (D-Mont.), O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), Clark (D-Mo.) and half a dozen others who have been most active in the fight.

Vice President Garner, who joined the party at Little Rock, told senators he would take no part in the court controversy, nor in the equally close-drawn struggle for the senate leadership.

Burke declared bluntly he would "fight to the last ditch" any compromise.

Administration leaders eagerly awaited word from Governor Carl E. Bailey of Arkansas whether he will appoint a temporary successor to Senator Robinson. He had told some senators he preferred to leave the seat vacant until a special election can be held, probably Sept. 14.

LEHMAN AGAINST BILL

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman, in a letter to United States Senator Robert F. Wagner, (D-N.Y.), today asked him to voice opposition to President Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization bill.

Lehman, Democratic successor to President Roosevelt as New York's governor, told Wagner "the president is already familiar with my views with regard to the bill."

"Several months ago I wrote to him that I believed its enactment would not be in the best interests of the country," he wrote.

"In the months that have passed since then my convictions have become strengthened. . . I believe that the orderly and deliberate processes of government should not be sacrificed merely to meet an immediate situation."

"From the broad standpoint of the public's interest, whatever immediate gain might be achieved through the proposed change in the court would, in my opinion, be far more than offset in a loss of confidence in the independence of the courts and in governmental procedure."

Severe Battle On Near Madrid

Fascists Trying to Drive Government Troops Back to Capital

Madrid.—(AP)—The heaviest battle of the Spanish civil war thus far raged west of Madrid today as insurgents launched a fierce drive to hurl government troops back to the capital.

Insurgent and government planes and artillery crashed bombs and shells into opposing lines near Brunete, newly-won government position 12 miles west of Madrid.

In the air, an estimated 160 planes fought for supremacy, with government forces gradually gaining a slight advantage.

The insurgent air force renewed a smashing bombardment of government front lines and communication routes. A duel between big guns—ranging in size from 3 to 10 inches—echoed all day in the capital.

Besides the Brunete spearhead into insurgent lines, government forces kept chipping at insurgent positions along in Madrid.

'We Defend Our Own But Covet Nothing' Eden Tells Italy

London.—(AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, held out a hand of friendship to Italy today in an important declaration of British foreign policy.

"This country," Eden declared in house of commons foreign affairs debate, "has no intention of pursuing towards any country a policy either of aggression or revenge."

"The word 'vendetta' has no English equivalent. No apprehension on that score should be allowed."

"We wish to live in peace and friendship with our neighbors, for while we defend our own we covet naught of theirs."

Eden declared that non-intervention in Spain "stands or falls on tomorrow's meeting of the 27 European non-interventionist powers."

Paving Machinery Moved to North End of Project

Complete Laying Concrete On New Highway Between Appleton - Kaukauna

With laying of concrete from Appleton to Kaukauna on the new Highway 41 completed Saturday, paving equipment was moved to the northern end of the new highway yesterday, and operations began this morning just north of McCarty's crossing, where the old and new highways join.

Work has progressed rapidly on the actual pouring of the concrete since the 10.84-mile job was started four weeks ago at Appleton by the Weymouth Construction company, Milwaukee, contractors. The road is being laid at the rate of a mile in about three days, and the record run to date was made Friday, when 2,026 feet of pavement was laid in 24 hours.

Two Shifts
Two shifts of men, working 6 hours each, kept machinery going from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. every day. "Somewhat less than seven miles of the job was finished Saturday and there was almost five miles yet to be done," Weymouth officials said.

The supply base, or plant, and offices are stationed north of the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks near Draper street, near what was formerly known as Ristau's park in Kaukauna. Materials for the paving are shipped by rail to the plant, and trucks haul them from Kaukauna to the mixer on the road. The mixer works from the farthest point away from the plant toward Kaukauna.

Unloaded at Night
Railroad cars of sand and stone are unloaded at night into storage bins by the crane which during the day is kept busy loading the hoppers that dispense the materials to trucks.

Saturday's run brought the paving machinery as far as Maloney road, near the plant. Equipment was moved yesterday to McCarty's crossing, and the road will be brought to meet the point where the new highway crosses the old one. An average daily output is from 1,650 to 1,700 feet of concrete.

A young village has mushroomed along the new highway on the piece of land known as "the marsh." The plant, with the storage bins for stone and sand, the side track with the cars of cement, and the line-up of company trucks give an aid of activity to the spot. Then there are the company offices, the rolling stock room, and the automobiles with trailers that workmen live in, as they take their families along with them on the job.

Gebhardt Returns From Conference

Large Number of Y. M. C. A. Officials Attend 6-Day Meet

Homer L. Gebhardt, general secretary of the Appleton Young Men's Christian association, returned last evening from a 6-day Midwest Employed Officers conference at College camp on Lake Geneva. The conference was the largest in the history of the organization with a total registration of 238 members from central region states.

Worship programs conducted by the Rev. Roland W. Schloer, pastor of the Hyde Park Baptist church, Chicago, were an outstanding feature of the conference. Representatives of various local and national organizations spoke at recognition service in honor of E. F. Dennison, personnel director of the national council, who is retiring this year, and a gift was presented.

Divide Sessions
Sessions were divided into discussions of administrative programs and activities projects with the administrative topic divided into coordination of councils, handling people, debt reduction and rehabilitation of buildings. Activities programs involved a discussion of principles and methods of groups work.

Miss Grace E. Coyle, professor of group work at Western Reserve university, and projects for boys, young men, adults, women and girls.

Wisconsin Weather
Fair tonight and Tuesday; not so cool north and west central portions tonight.

General Weather
Showers have occurred since yesterday morning over sections of the central plains states and central and southern Mississippi valley, with heavy rain falling at Omaha, Neb. However, fair weather is general this morning over nearly all sections of the country, except that it is unsettled over the central Mississippi valley, with rain falling at St. Louis and Memphis.

Mostly moderate temperatures prevail this morning over nearly all portions of the country, but maxima of near 90 degrees occurred yesterday at many stations in the Canadian Northwest.

Continued fair weather is expected in this section during the next 24 hours, with rising temperature tonight.

PICCARD UNHURT IN TREE-TOP LANDING

Uninjured when he descended into the tree tops near Lansing, Iowa, Dr. Jean Piccard is shown here as he viewed the wreckage of his multi-balloon gondola "The Pleiades." All of his instruments were lost in the fire following his landing. During the flight he reached an altitude of approximately 11,000 feet but would not discuss whether or not he considered the experiment a success immediately.

Question of War Up to Japs, Says Chinese General settlement of the conflict with North China and that any agreement must have Nanking's approval.

This communication was handed to Shinroku Hida, Japanese charge d'affaires, by a representative of Foreign Minister, Wang Chung-Hui.

Yesterday Japanese army officers at Tientsin reported an agreement for settlement of the conflict in the Peiping-Tientsin zone had been reached by Japanese and Chinese military commanders in the area, the Chinese accepting verbally the Japanese demands.

Hida, according to Nanking dispatches, declared he could not accept the statement of the Chinese government's attitude. He told the envoy he would wait until midnight tonight (10 a. m., C. S. T.) for the Nanking government to reconsider and submit a new reply.

Although Tokyo officials watched the Nanking exchanges closely and expressed doubts of the value of the Tientsin agreement, reports from Peiping indicated the situation was less tense.

Remove Barricades
A dispatch to the Asahi said troops of the Chinese 29th army had begun removing barricades and war equipment from the area west of Tientsin in compliance with the Japanese demands.

(Previous Sino-Japanese crises in North China have been settled between Japanese commanders on the spot and local Chinese officials. The Japanese army, dominant factor in determining China policy, had insisted that any settlement of the present dispute must be local and that Nanking's acceptance or otherwise was of little importance.)

Concerning the airplane-troop train clash, Japanese admitted their planes had fired on the trains at Yuan-shih, 170 miles south of Peiping, on the Hankow railroad, but declared the troops aboard the trains had first fired on the Japanese war craft.

The Chinese declared their troops had suffered many casualties in the attack.

Deny Truce Reached
Japan, scouting reports that any truce had been reached at the Tientsin conference Sunday, charged heavy concentrations of Chinese troops had violated an agreement which the Japanese army says forbids the Nanking Chinese government from sending troops into North China.

Particularly heavy concentrations of Chinese troops were said to have been made at Paodingfu, 85 miles south of Peiping, while armies were moving in from the north-west and south on the area where Japanese and Chinese have been fighting since July 7.

In view of the steadily increasing tension between China and Japan over the conflict of their armed troops as well as interests in the rich North China region, the Tokyo metropolitan area was prepared for a state of emergency.

Japanese reports from Nanking said the Chinese government would make a firm reply to the Japanese note demanding the central government keep hands off any local solution that might be reached. Nanking has insisted no local agreement would end the crisis, which started when Chinese troops guarding a bridge west of Peiping clashed with Japanese troops on night maneuvers.

Japanese Warning
First reports of Chinese troops mobilizations drew a warning from Japan that she considered them a violation of the Ho-Umezu agreement which formed the basis for the charges of "invasion" made today.

The terms of the agreement signed in 1935 by General Ho Ying-Chin, Chinese minister of war and then ranking North China official, and General Yoshijiri Umezu, at the time commander of the Japanese North China garrison, never have been made public. The Nanking government does not recognize the agreement.

The foreign office spokesman, who declared Japan considers China to have committed an act of aggression in the area where Japanese influence has been steadily spreading, indicated the future course of events rested on the attitude of the Nanking government.

Fugitive Caught Resting in Auto Stolen at Manawa

Manitowoc County Authorities Report Confession of Theft

Louis Lembke, 36, Sheboygan, who escaped from the Waukesha County jail Friday morning and is alleged to have stolen an automobile at Manawa early Sunday morning, was arrested three miles west of Manitowoc Sunday, resting in the rear seat of the automobile he is accused of taking.

He was turned over to Waukesha county authorities.

While Lembke was confined at the Manitowoc county jail, a confession was obtained by John Cashman, district attorney, and Norman Berkedal, sheriff, the authorities reported.

They said Lembke told them he fashioned a key out of wood with which he unlocked the cell door in the Waukesha jail. He rode a freight train to Milwaukee and thence to Sheboygan where he took an automobile and drove to Manawa, the officials said they were told. At Manawa, he broke a window in the F. R. McKeljohn garage, they said.

Lock Is Broken
At Manawa, it was reported today, the lock on the garage safe, which was unlocked, was broken but nothing taken from it. The lock was so jammed that a torch was used to open the safe later.

While Sheriff Duncan Campbell of Waupaca county was investigating the garage burglary, an abandoned car bearing plates issued to Nick Schinadeck, Sheboygan, was found in Manawa, and Campbell called Sheboygan. Later in the day, Campbell and Earl Polzin, traffic officer, went to Manitowoc to get the McKeljohn car.

About 5 o'clock Sunday morning, Martin Kostzrak, an employee of the McKeljohn garage at Manawa, was going fishing and saw a sedan drive out of the garage driveway and reported that he thought it contained three men.

Awaiting Trial
Lembke, who was awaiting trial at Waukesha on a robbery charge, held some time at Waupun for a crime committed in Waupaca county, Manitowoc authorities said they were told.

The capture of Lembke near Manitowoc was somewhat accidental. He is alleged to have stolen license plates off the car of August Hintz, Newton, while Hintz was attending church at Centerville.

While Hintz was on his way to Manitowoc to report the theft he recognized his plates on a car parked near the highway. Lembke was reclining in the back seat. Hintz reported the case to Sheriff Berkedal who arrested Lembke a few minutes later.

Milwaukee Is Winner In Pilot's Air Contest

Milwaukee (AP)—Edward Weber, Milwaukee, averaged 94.5 miles an hour to win the 15-mile free-for-all race climaxing the two-day program of the first annual interstate all-sports-men pilot's air meet here yesterday.

Henry Beck, Milwaukee, was second, and Marie Fontana, Iron Mountain, Mich., was third. Robert Heide and Al Gmoser, both of Milwaukee, placed first and second in the "bomb" dropping contest.

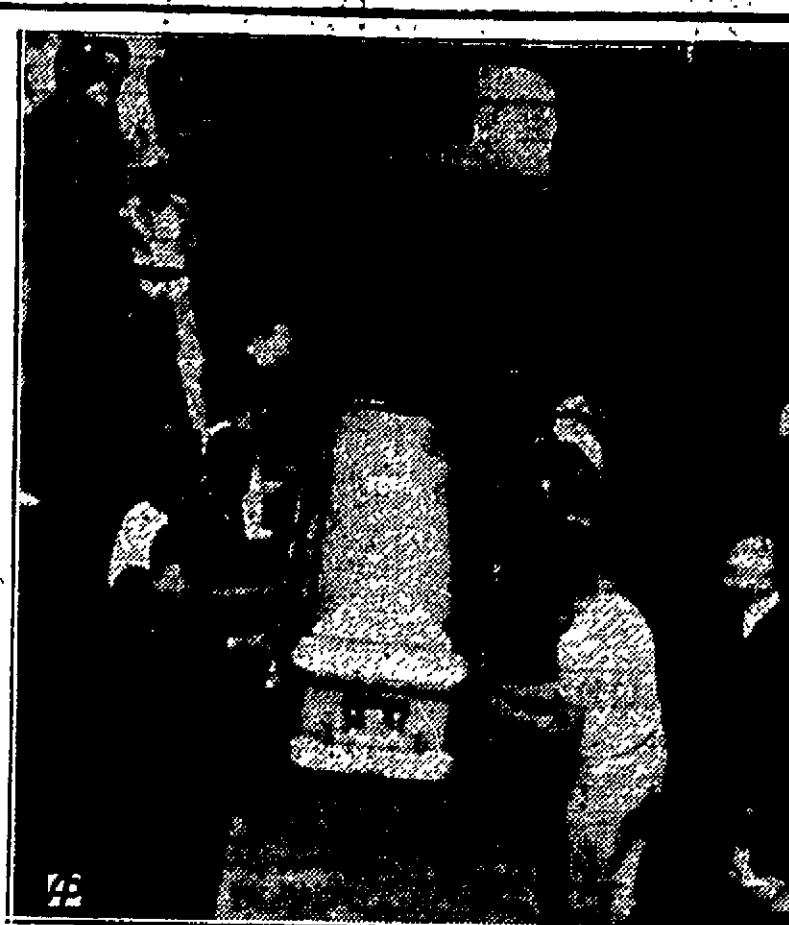

BOARD TO MEET
Members of the board of education will meet at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Lincoln school. Matters pertaining to the construction of the new senior high school on Badger avenue will be considered.

protestor to the east, in the last 24 hours.

Preparations were under way to receive a Japanese army corps of some 20,000 men from Korea and Japan proper.

Sporadic fighting continued. Chinese gendarmes on the walls of Wangpingston, where the original clash occurred, exchanged rifle fire with the town last yesterday. Highways in the vicinity of the western suburb are mined and huge barricades have been erected.

Chinese observers estimated there were 12,000 Japanese troops in North China with a strangle hold on Peiping.

PLACE ROBINSON CASKET IN HEARSE

Reverent thousands crowded into Union station at Little Rock, Ark., for arrival of the special train bearing the body of Senator Joseph T. Robinson. Senate majority leader who died in Washington. The casket is shown here as it was transferred to the hearse for the last trip home. Congressional leaders were among the thousands attending the funeral.

Combination of Factors Aids State Paper Industry

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Favorable water power conditions, accessibility of raw materials and proximity of markets have combined in the development of Wisconsin's vast paper industry, says the state department of markets in a new publication.

There are now 43 paper manufacturing establishments in Wisconsin, says the bulletin, which tells the world that "to spread before you a list of Wisconsin-made paper products would be to call the roll of paper products. Print paper, wall-paper, bond paper, book paper, wrapping paper, writing paper, boxboard, Bristol board, greaseproof paper, tissue paper—the list is almost endless."

"The pulp and paper mills of Wisconsin, located chiefly in the upper Fox and Wisconsin river valleys—at Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Green Bay, Port Edwards, Marathon, Stevens Point and elsewhere—convert a million two hundred thousand cords of pulpwood every year. If it's paper or paper products that you need Wisconsin will supply you with the best," the bulletin continues.

Many Changes
Wisconsin's wood using industries, including paper manufacturing, says the author, have changed in many ways in late years. "Wisconsin rivers no longer resound with the shouts of lumberjacks driving logs. The forest products industries have become less spectacular, more scientific, more business-like."

And despite the popular belief, Wisconsin's lumbering industry is still an important one, says the bulletin, ranking second only to foundries and machine shops in the number of persons employed.

"The wood-using industries lumped together to include lumber, pulp and paper, and furniture, outranked all other lines of industrial employment. The value of Wisconsin products manufactured from wood, according to a recent census, was $233,000,000. More than 100 Wisconsin sawmills produce half a billion feet of lumber per year—enough wood to build a board fence 28 feet high completely around the world at the equator."

Former Ford Employee Turned Down Transfers

Detroit (AP)—Joseph Szynski, a former Ford Motor Co. employee, testified at a national labor relations board hearing today he had twice refused transfers to other departments within the plant before he was discharged.

Szynski was one of the men the NLRB complaint against the Ford company charged were dismissed for union activity.

Labor board attorneys contended Szynski was assigned to a "dirty job" so there would be a pretext for his discharge. Ford attorneys claimed his story of having twice refused transfers was untrue.

While the NLRB hearing entered its third week, William Merriweather, one of a group of U.A.W. men beaten at the Ford gates May 26, identified several of the eight defendants being examined in common pleas court on assault charges growing out of that clash.

He named Oscar Jones and Wilfred Comment as men he saw beating Robert Sentman, a union official, and said after they had left Sentman they attacked him.

Governor Awards Trophy To 127th Infantry at Camp

Camp Douglas—The 127th Infantry Regiment of which Co. D is a unit, has reason to feel very proud. Friday afternoon they were presented with the governor's trophy by Governor Philip F. LaFollette for being the best regiment in the Wisconsin National Guard during the 2nd Army Maneuvers last summer in Michigan. The 127th and 128th Regiments were brought on the parade grounds where the governor presented the trophy which was a large loving cup. He spoke a few words praising and complimenting the 127th regiment and asking them to keep up their splendid work.

Colonel Himes, commanding officer of the regiment, accepted the trophy in behalf of the regiment. The 128th regiment then left the field and the 127th paraded in review before Governor LaFollette, and Adjutant General Immell and the camp staff.

Friday morning's work consisted entirely of pistol practice. The firing was not for record qualification. The wind was very strong and as a result was more difficult.

The 128th regiment left Friday night for an overnight problem which lasted until Saturday evening. According to latest reports the regiment was to have its problem Monday.

Just on Errors
We are sorry to have made the mistake of calling the G-Man Private Guckenbecker instead of Private Kuckenbecker in the article about missing the target entirely. We have a Corporal Guckenbecker in our company. It is a good shot with the pistol, rifle, and machine gun and we don't want to spoil his reputation. But nevertheless, G-Man Kuckenbecker doesn't feel so badly about his scare anymore. Corporal Doro fired this morning and missed the target four out of five times, scoring 2 out of a possible 50.

The boys tied down the tents as the wind was almost like a gale. All the blankets were used Friday night because it was very cold.

Private Karl Peerenboom says he is glad he could come to camp and is enjoying camp life very much. Karl didn't know if he could make it until the Friday night before camp.

Private Charles Wisteen, promises to have many interesting photos of camp and camp life when he gets home. Photography is one of Charles' hobbies.

Both western and detective story magazines are getting a big run now. After one fellow reads them they are passed on and on. Maybe some of the boys are homesick and want something to keep their mind off it.

And Older Timer
A real old timer visiting here today was F. W. Kuckenbecker, father of John (G-Man) Kuckenbecker, who was down here 41 years ago as member of old Co. D. Some of the former members of our company who paid us a visit were James Holzer, Al Newnfeldt, Oliver Tracy, accompanied by his wife and family, Clarence Christian and his wife, and Orville Thompson.

Among the other visitors were Mrs. Richard Jones, Gladys Somberly, Evelyn Mennen, Katherine Mennen, Mrs. Jacob Storm, Lillian Guckenbecker, Wibur Steens, Mr. and Mrs. Berg of Kaukauna, Irene Berg and Helen Zepherin.

75 are Seized in Raids on Alleged White Slave Ring

Superior (AP)—Thomas G. Melvin, head of the Milwaukee office of the federal bureau of investigation, said today federal officers and local police had seized about 75 persons in Iowa, Wisconsin, and Minnesota in raids on houses operated by what he termed an interstate white slave ring.

Police said two of the houses were in Superior and four in Duluth, Minn.

Five warrants were issued shortly after the arrests were made, Melvin said. He said he expected to issue more later.

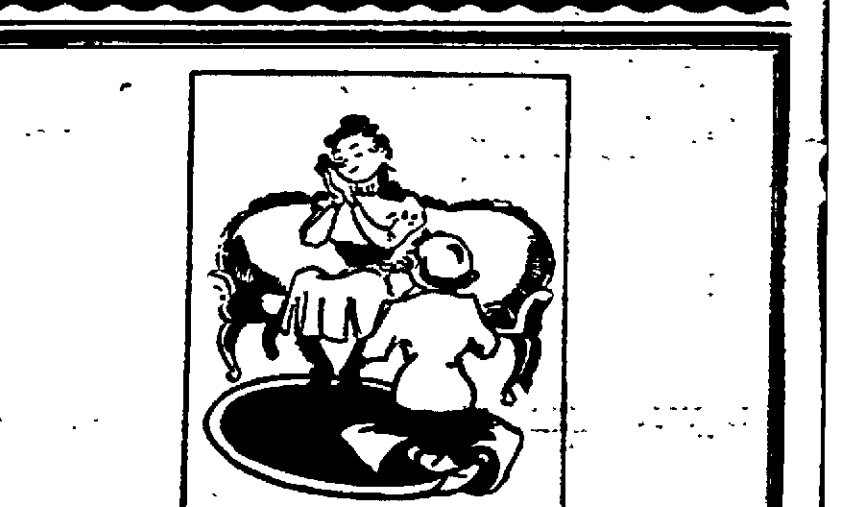

Two of those seized, Sadie Anderson and Salie Lawrence, both of Superior, were arraigned before United States Court Commissioner C. W. Bishop and charged with violation of the white slave act. They posted bonds of $4,000 each pending preliminary hearings scheduled for July 30. A negro and his wife were arrested at Duluth, and another Negro was taken into custody at Moorehead, Minn.

District Agent J. Quinane of the F. B. I. at Duluth said about 22 of those seized were white girls. Melvin said operators of the ring sent girls over a circuit of towns in Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and Iowa.

List Visitors
The first of the many visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Peerenboom and son, Robert, who arrived here Saturday forenoon to visit their son and brother, Karl. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. John A. Green, Mrs. H. J. Plette, and Mrs.

Pleads Not Guilty Of Manslaughter In Fatal Accident

Manawa Driver Released On Bond Pending Hearing in September

Ferdinand Rast, Manawa, driver of a car which figured June 26 in a head-on collision resulting in the death of four persons including his wife, pleaded not guilty to four counts of first degree manslaughter when he appeared in the justice court of S. W. Johnson at Waupaca this morning.

Preliminary examination was set for Sept. 17 in Justice Johnson's court and Rast was released on $3,000 bond.

The warrant was obtained today by district Attorney Paul Roman of Waupaca county after a coroner's jury Saturday decided that the accident, resulted from failure of Rast to stop for an arterial sign at a Waupaca highway intersection.

The crash occurred at Bear Lake dance pavilion after a wedding party attended by the crash victims. Testimony furnished authorities indicated Rast drove from a side road on to Highway 22 where his car and an automobile driven by Boyd Carroll, Weyauwega, collided.

Mrs. Rast was killed instantly. Marilyn Timm, 17, occupant of the Carroll car, died within a few minutes. Ralph Suebs, 18, and Rowland Sheldon, 16, both occupants of the Sheldon car, died the following morning at a New London hospital.

Sees Liberals Against Conservatives in U. S.

Milwaukee — (P) — Attorney General Orland S. Loomis, speaking before a picnic crowd made up of members of the "right-wing" Progressive party at Crackerjack park, said Wisconsin's political alignment of the last 40 years—liberal against conservative—rapidly is becoming the national political pattern.

"For 40 years there has been a political alignment in Wisconsin with the liberals on one side and the conservatives on the other, due to the efforts of the Progressives in advocating aggressive action by government to solve our social and economic problems," Loomis said.

"Today the political alignment is fast developing throughout the nation because we in Wisconsin have impressed upon the people what action by the government can accomplish for their social and economic welfare."

DEATHS

WENDT FUNERAL
Funeral services for Otto Wendt, town of Center, who died Wednesday, were held at 1:30 Saturday afternoon at the home and at 2 o'clock at the St. John Lutheran church, town of Center, by the Rev. A. H. Werner in charge and burial was in the Community Lutheran cemetery, town of Freedom.

Bearers were Robert Flammann, George Plamann, Edward Gergen, George Pingel, Walter Schroeder and George Wendt.

WILLIAM POWERS

William Powers, formerly of Shiocton, died at his home in Waupaca, Ill., about 12:30 last night. Survivors include a sister, Lucille Powers, Appleton; two brothers, Walter Raymond, James Waupaca; Maurice, Shiocton. Arrangements for the funeral have not been made.

Births

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vanderloop, South Milwaukee, on July 15. Mrs. Vanderloop formerly was Miss Margaret Baum of Appleton.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Verneke, 712 Jefferson street, Menasha, at St. Elizabeth hospital Saturday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley H. Johnson, 1107 S. Kernan avenue, Saturday, at St. Elizabeth hospital.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmidt, Forest Junction, at St. Elizabeth hospital this morning.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. James Heenan, route 1, Appleton, at St. Elizabeth hospital this morning.

Furniture Company

Workers on Strike
Eau Claire — (P) — About 200 employees of the Pioneer Furniture company here went on strike at noon today following refusal of the management to rehire a workman discharged last Saturday. Company officials declared that they had no intention of taking the man back, and no negotiations with the union had yet been arranged.

The union is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Pickets were placed around the plant, but the management said no attempt would be made to resume operations until the dispute is settled.

DE VALERA GREETES PILOT OF CLIPPER

City Hall Softball Team Troupes Street Department Squad, 24 to 14

Having things entirely their own way, the boys from the city hall soundly trounced street department employees 23 to 14 in the annual softball picnic at the street department picnic Saturday at Stroeb's island.

Having Mayor Goodland umpiring with Aldermen Harriman and Franke calling the close ones on the bases might have given the city hall a slight advantage, but this was offset when Alderman McGillan, noted for his bat swinging, was loaned to the street department team for several innings.

The two weeks of intensive training by the street workers proved of no avail against the big league hurling of Claude Greisch, deputy health officer, for the city hall. Lawrence Reinke, turned in a fine job on the mound for the keepers of the streets, but his teammates left him down.

Clarence Baetz, superintendent of the sewage disposal plant, brought his long years of baseball experience into play for a perfect day at bat. He scored each of the five times he got on base for the city hall. Alderman Brautigam's past experience in the baseball world also stood him in good stead and he played the entire seven innings after first planning to play but three.

HIT HOME RUNS
Greisch clouted a homer for the city hall and Dester for the street department. William Gallaher, superintendent of the water plant, turned in a major league performance for the victors at first base.

Others in the city hall lineup were Aldermen DeLand and Kubitz, Karlheim, Crowe, Doerfler and City Attorney Hoefel.

Rounding out the street department squad were Albrecht, Cleveland, Arps, Schultz, Thompson, Horn and Lillie.

About 80 employees of the city attended the picnic which continued throughout the day and evening. A picnic dinner and supper were served and the $50 appropriated by the common council for food provided a variety of eatables which made eating the popular pastime of the day.

pay. However, the method has been condemned by those who claim the cost of public buildings should be met directly out of taxes.

The price of football tickets helped build the University stadium and the fees charged for use of the handsome Memorial Union building contributed toward its cost.

An inquisitive person may wonder how the state board of control, the guardian of most of the penal and charitable wards of the state, could find a fee system to complete the Oregon Industrial School for Girls.

The answer is that counties are required by law to pay the state $250 a week for the care of their delinquent girls. This is revenue the board of control may anticipate and make the basis of long term financing.

Most of the dormitories for the Oregon school have been built with appropriations direct from the legislature but $500,000 will have to be spent for other necessary buildings before it can be put into use.

Another Structure
Another public structure that may be completed without funds coming direct from the state treasury is the state office building on the shore of Lake Monona in Madison. Unlike the ornate state capitol, the office building was conceived as a compact structure to house departments that cannot be crowded into the capitol.

It was designed to have two wings and a central tower. One wing has been erected. The legislature authorized the state office building commission to borrow from trust funds and apply for a PWA grant to complete the tower. The trust fund loan would be repaid from the substantial sums various departments now pay for rent in private office buildings.

Telltale signs in the vicinity of Custer. Ben Disher, 21, of Plover is under arrest as the driver of the car. Three others struck by the car before Berna were not seriously injured.

Sheriff's officers and witnesses said the Disher car, containing eight persons, ran over Berna twice while making two circles in the yard in front of the tavern. Berna suffered extensive injuries and his clothing was ripped to pieces. He died en route to the hospital here.

CHILD FATALLY HURT
Stevens Point — (P) — Marcella Raab, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Raab of Blenker was fatally injured late Saturday when she was run over by a wagon loaded with hay which was being driven by her father. The child was in the yard at her home and the wheels of one side of the wagon are believed to have passed over the upper portion of her body.

The girl got up and walked into the barn after she was run over but died soon after a doctor was called from Junction City.

Green Bay — (P) — Ray Kuhn, 28, Green Bay, drowned late Saturday a half-mile off the Lake Michigan shore near Benderville. Kuhn was thrown into the water when a motorboat in which he and two companions were riding overturned. His two friends were saved.

Baraboo, Wis. — (P) — William Doms, 48, of Kendall, Wis., drowned last night in Lake Delton when his canoe capsized about 200 feet from Hillman's island. A companion, Raymond Schroeder, also of Kendall, was rescued by William Hillman and William Little.

Viroqua, Wis. — (P) — Theodore Bekkum, 52, who authorities said was struck by a car driven by Harold Kunn, 22, LaCrosse, Wis., was killed early today while walking along Highway 14, north of Westby.

Watertown, Wis. — (P) — A bull trampled Robert Bucholtz, 50-year-old Honey Creek farmer, to death yesterday at his farm.

Flashes of Life

By the Associated Press
Newark, N. J. — Police Sergeant Edward F. Tucker, off duty, strolled out of a restaurant and saw a young man trying to start a car.

"What's the matter, Bud?" he asked.

"Can't get it started."

"The ignition key is not in the lock," said the sergeant, politely.

"I haven't got it," said the young man.

"I have," said Tucker. "It's my car."

So to jail.

Lawyer Plans to "Sit Out" 10-Day Parking Sentence

Although he must pay only $4.95 to avoid it, William L. Crow, Appleton attorney and former professor at Lawrence college, announced this morning that he would "sit out" a 10-day sentence at the county detention camp for violation of the city's 90-minute parking ordinance.

Crow pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning and was fined $2 and costs with an alternative of 10 days at the camp. He said he planned to leave for camp tonight and might write a story on life at the institution from the standpoint of one who is "inside."

Occupants Unhurt When Cars Crash

Hortonville, Bear Creek Drivers Involved in Accident

Occupants escaped serious injury when cars driven by Lester Monty, Bear Creek, and James Sommers, Hortonville, were involved in a head-on collision on County Trunk T a mile south of Highway 45 in the town of Hortonville about 10 o'clock Sunday evening, according to county police.

Sommers was driving north and Monty south when the accident occurred, police reported. Both machines were damaged.

An automobile driven by Rexford Vick, route 2, Black Creek, tipped into a ditch off Highway 54, 4 miles west of Shiocton, early Saturday morning and burned, county police report. Vick, alone in the car, was not hurt.

Wyoming Woman Wins Correspondence Prize

New York — (P) — The 1937 award for the best country newspaper correspondence will go to Finlay Petrie, of Opal, Wyo., it was announced today by Wheeler McMillen, editor of the Country Home magazine, which sponsors the annual prize for "crossroads" journalism.

The prize consists of $200 in cash and a trip to New York and Washington.

Petrie works in the general store in Opal, a tiny desert trading and watering post of 50 inhabitants on the Union Pacific. He gathers material for the weekly column of the Gazette, in nearby Kemmerer.

Excerpts from the winning correspondence include:

"If anyone tells you he can hold a car on these icy roads when it begins to skid, tell him to peel a cranberry; it can't be done."

Special Opal note: We still saucer our coffee, dunk our toast, hang the bathtub on a nail, take a shower in the rain; but there is no one on the dole and the health of the inhabitants is 100 per cent.

A cash award was won by Mrs. Della Loui, of the Plattville, Wis. Journal.

Marie, judge advocate.

Dim Lights for Safety HEALTH SERVICE

On Sept. 18, 1895, D. D. Palmer of Davenport, Iowa, gave the fundamentals of Chiropractic to suffering humanity.

The Science of Chiropractic has recorded the most remarkable progress in the entire history of the world. Practically all the leading insurance companies recognize the Science. A legion of stage screen and opera stars, famous athletes, governors, politicians, financiers, authors, artists, and prominent people endorse Chiropractic. Could all these famous people be wrong in endorsing Chiropractic?

Now it can be told: Dr. William Jensen, Chiropractor of Daytona Beach, Florida, aided John D. Rockefeller to live long and happily through Chiropractic. This Clinic has records to that effect. Even the fact that this Chiropractor ministered to John D. Rockefeller in his last hour was suppressed. Picture this condition in the year of 1937 when we are supposed to have a free press. No, it was not the press that suppressed this, but the selfish hand of old school autocracy which caused the relatives of the multimillionaire to tremble at the thought that the world might know they were patients of Chiropractic.

The author of this writing has personally handled cases at this Clinic that the old school of doctoring had told them they were incurable, however, Chiropractic applied scientifically has corrected the cause of many of these so-called incurable cases.

In this Clinic some fifteen stubborn cases of eczema have been corrected by adjusting a vertebra in the cervical region. In every instance these cases had all other methods of healing before coming here. Any logical thinking person will admit that any eruption must be corrected from within out in order to heal properly.

Therefore, if lack of nerve energy is the cause of disease as science teaches, then why not set about eliminating the cause that interferes with the free flow of life-giving energy?

A competent chiropractor finds the cause with an instrument that determines the location of the interference or pressure upon spinal cord or nerve fibers, the predisposing factor in all disease, and corrects that interference. HEALTH the natural inheritance will reappear. For your Health Appt. phone 419W.

Farmers Told to Use Poison in Fighting Hoppers

Damage Won't be as Great This Year as in 1933, County Agent Reports

Grasshoppers are becoming numerous in some parts of Outagamie county, B. C. Swanson, county agricultural agent said today in warning farmers to inspect their permanent pasture sod along the edges of corn and grain fields. In many cases, these areas will be found with the pests, Swanson said.

In some sections of the county, grasshoppers are entering the edges of some of the grain fields and doing some damage. While the amount of destruction the pests will cause will not likely be great this year, they will be serious pests in 1933, Swanson continued.

Farmers should confine their efforts to poisoning the pests in spots that are heavily infested, the county agent said. There are many different species of grasshoppers, but the life cycle of the injurious types are similar. Mature females seek uncultivated areas like meadows, fence rows, ditch banks and other food land suitable for the depositing of eggs during the latter part of summer and early fall months.

Laying Eggs in July

Egg laying begins soon after the middle of July and continues until the grasshoppers are killed by cold weather in the fall, the agent said. During this period each female deposits from 75 to 250 eggs in pod-like masses. Each mass containing from 40 to 100 eggs. These masses of eggs are usually placed from one to three inches beneath the surface of the ground. In some of the most favorable egg laying areas one hundred or more egg masses may be placed in a square foot of soil. The eggs stay in the ground over winter and hatching begins in early May and continues until the end of June, the dates varying with the seasons and the species involved. After hatching, the young hopper, begins its life as a small wiggly creature feeding on sucklings and plants. After several weeks it reaches the wing stage. Most of the destructive grasshoppers reach maturity in thirty or ninety days and most of their destruction is done during that developing stage, although the adults still have good appetites and continue to feed until killed by cold weather.

Hoppers Feed on Plants

When the grasshoppers become very abundant practically every plant is considered good food for them, Swanson reported. The grasshopper generally eats about one-tenth of its weight at a meal and frequently eats several times during the day. It is not uncommon for a grasshopper to consume about one-half its weight of green food every twenty four hours.

Swanson advised farmers who wish to poison grasshoppers to use a mixture of two bushels of sawdust, two gallons of whey, one quart of sodium arsenic and one gallon of water. Green sawdust should not be used, but old sawdust from any kind of trees is satisfactory, he said. Paris green can be substituted for sodium arsenic. Paris green should be applied by hand at the rate of about 20 pounds per acre and should be applied at night or early in the morning.

What's New at the Library

Close on the heels of the news that Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska is arriving at Chautauque, Lakes, Waupaca, to vacation at his summer home, comes the announcement that among the new books at Appleton Public Library is one entitled "Integrity" by Richard L. Neuberger and Stephen B. Kahn, which is the story of the life of Senator Norris. Termed by President Roosevelt as "one of the major prophecies of America," denounced as a traitor in 1917 but hailed as a hero today, the father of the Tennessee Valley Authority, "the greatest national experiment," Norris' career covers the history of American progressive thought and action since the turn of the century. The direct antithesis of all that is commonly considered as belonging to a politician, Norris is presented from his beginning as a farm boy in Ohio, followed through school days at Baldwin university and Northern Indiana Normal School and Business Institute at Valparaiso, Ind., where he received his law degree, and shown as a school teacher and later getting his start as a lawyer in Beaver City, Neb. His various successes and projects are discussed at length in this book which brings events in Norris' life up to date.

Boake Carter, the man who every night tells ten million people what is happening in the world, has published another book called "This is Life," which is a cross-section of the last few years, accidents, heroisms, great events, domestic dramas. He gives his version of the death of George V, assassination of Huey Long, death of Sid Basil Zaharoff, shooting of John Dillinger and adds a number of little human incidents which received very little public notice but which tear at the heart-strings.

The country became conscious of the words, "pixillated" and "doodler" about a year ago when Gary Cooper made a successful movie entitled "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town." Now a new book has come off the press entitled "Everybody's Pixillated" by Russell M. Arundel, in which "doodling" is discussed as a means of determining the character of the "doodler." The book contains a collection of "doodles" or meaningless scribbles of famous people from George Washington to Benjamin Franklin to Cab

Calloway and Joe Penner, gleaned from telephone pads, tabloids, newspapers, diaries, memos and menus. An analysis by a psychiatrist appears below each "doodle."

Linton Wells nose for news got him imprisoned by the Bolsheviks into the First World Flight, expelled from Italy and was responsible for his hobnobbing with the erstwhile King Edward VIII. In his new book, "Blood on the Moon" he tells of his life and adventure, trips around the world and the people he met while thus engaged.

The men who are observing and recording history in the making, namely, the foreign correspondents of American newspapers, talk freely and fully about the job they are doing in a book entitled "We Cover the World" edited by Eugene Lyons. In it 16 correspondents dig into their own experiences to bring forth, in a series of side-lights on the romance of their profession. They tell how they got their information, how they scooped their fellow newspapermen or duped the censors, how they covered seemingly impossible assignments, risking their necks and their consciences.

"Conversation at Midnight" is the fascinating title of a new book of poetry by Edna St. Vincent Millay which has been received at the library. It is a sequence of poems reflecting modern life. Men of different tastes and aptitudes, a wealthy Italian bachelor, a priest, a rich American, stockbroker, a painter, a writer and a poet, meet for dinner and talk over a number of topics, religion, love, woman, art, politics, philosophy, sport, music, war and heroism.

Often have foreign visitors written their impressions of America after a visit here, but the tables are turned and an American tells what he and his wife think about French schools, domestics, thrift, officials, firemen and weddings in the "Mott Family in France" by Donald Moffat. It is the story of an American couple who decide to live for a year in France, and with their three young daughters they settle down in a small village north of Paris. Packing the children off to a day school, Mr. Mott sets out to discover the French character and his impressions are set down in this volume.

State Historical Library Contains Records of Valley

Musty Document Recalls Efforts of County Pioneers to Get College Charter

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau. Madison—At the foot of the University of Wisconsin campus stands a large and impressive building, the Wisconsin Historical society library ranked as one of the best in the nation and a treasure house of state and local historical material.

Records of incalculable value, diaries, letters and papers of men who built the present prosperous and highly developed Fox River Valley from a virgin wilderness, files of almost all the newspapers published in the state, from the day that the first tramp printer invaded pioneer Wisconsin with his hand press, to yesterday's editions, family histories, photographs, all are carefully preserved in the files of the Wisconsin Historical society for the edification of posterity.

In those files is the correspondence of Morgan L. Martin, one of the Fox River Valley's famous men, who has been characterized as "one of the most conspicuous and distinguished among that band of settlers who early gave a national reputation to Wisconsin." Martin lived for 60 years at Green Bay, and according to Alice E. Smith of the library staff, his life "is virtually a history of the state during that period."

James Doty Papers

There also is the musty document which recalls the efforts of ambitious Outagamie county pioneers to obtain a charter for a college in 1846. There are the papers of famous James Duane Doty, whose home still stands in Neenah. There lie the records of Wisconsin's once tremendous lumbering industry, the history of which has never adequately been told. There also lies a wealth of material on localities, Appleton, Green Bay, DePere, Kaukauna, which local historians of the future will draw upon.

One of the most fascinating parts of the society's extensive collection is the newspaper file. Here one may read the Green Bay Intelligencer, the first paper to be published in Wisconsin, which was delivered to subscribers over wild Indian trails. Here are the files of the Green Bay Advocate of 90 years ago, and the dozen papers which followed, and have since died. Here, perfectly preserved, may be found copies of the Appleton Volksfreund, German language organ which had a wide following in the Northwestern Wisconsin area many years ago. All the predecessors of the modern Valley newspapers are stowed away in the library's spacious vaults.

Theodore Roosevelt once wrote that Wisconsin's historical library, dating back to a special legislative act in 1833, was the outstanding collection of western historical material in the country. That tribute was due to the indefatigable life work of Dr. Lyman C. Draper, once a superintendent of the library. Over a long period of years Dr. Draper toured the state and the middle west collecting material. From nooks and crannies, from trunks and storerooms, came a wealth of papers, pictures, letters, records, so many that even today there are whole stacks of material which have not yet been cataloged.

Claim Crows are Valuable Aid in Checking Hoppers

Nature Association Criticizes Killing of Birds in Wisconsin

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau. Washington—Wisconsin's crow-killing campaign is severely criticized by the American Nature association, which has started its own campaign to save crows with the hopes that they will gobble up the grasshoppers.

"Grasshoppers destroying farm crops worth millions of dollars while organized drives to kill crows are being conducted presents a strange and ridiculous picture," said Arthur Newton Pack, president of the American Nature association.

"Systematic campaigns of slaughtering the crow have been conducted in Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska and Ohio. This has a direct bearing on what you pay for food next winter," Pack said.

Research has revealed, he declared, that stomach contents of the crow show that in the spring and summer months one third of a crow's diet consists of insects, with grasshoppers being one of the chief delicacies on crow menus. Just to show what valuable hopper exterminators crows are, Pack said that a grasshopper eating record of 143 insects is credited to one gourmandizing crow in a little more than an hour.

The crow-killing campaign, according to Pack, was instituted largely by manufacturers of arms and ammunition and embraced eagerly by men who want to hunt out of season.

FRANCE BEATS US TO IT

While the French system of government differs in several important particulars from ours, it may serve as an example and a warning of what happens when the Roosevelt financial policies are put into operation without restriction.

For France has gone the Roosevelt way in one year. There were no restraints upon its legislative body. There was no supreme court to hold it to the limits of authority conferred upon it by the people.

Let us not turn away from the unpleasant scene. It isn't time to take an absinthe frappe nor a bottle of burgundy. It is time to observe the collapse.

M. Blum went into power a year ago. He had promised the people (1) a 10 per cent raise in wages, and (2) a 40-hour week. He had also promised them that this program would be accomplished without (1) additional debt or (2) devaluation of the franc or (3) increased cost of living.

It seems impossible that people could believe that the one could be accomplished without resulting in the other. But people like to believe what they want to believe.

The Blum "reforms" were put into almost immediate effect excepting in a few relatively limited industries where they were not found practical.

And now here is where the French system of government differs from ours. M. Blum devalued the franc substantially. He plunged into the greatest orgy of debt France has ever known. But when it came to devaluing the franc again, as seemed unavoidable, and when further bond issues were necessary among a people discouraged at the recklessness of their rulers and the worthlessness of their words, the French premier merely resigned, and a new government was ushered in almost overnight.

And now it is time to pay the fiddler. For the dance is about over and the music has been gay and reckless.

The new French government first obtained the right to govern by decree. Hitlerwise, for six weeks. It then ordered new taxes, and, to quote the cable, "higher income taxes, higher real estate taxes, new stamp taxes, higher production taxes, higher tariffs, higher gasoline taxes, higher postage and telephone rates, higher tobacco prices and higher railroad fares."

As a sample of the income tax the tax on all incomes above $800 a year is increased 20 per cent. Yet look not at that aghast. The Wisconsin legislature increased precisely the same tax in this state 60 per cent.

Now, it is necessary to observe how the French and American governments differ. Under our political system, and due to the subservience of "coat-tail congressmen" the President practically rules supreme. And he has ordained, just as did M. Blum, that it will have to be his successor who raises the taxes. He has had the pleasure and the glory of doing the spending.

It might not be out of order to turn to the treasury statement of our own government for the first week in July. It showed expenses of over 271 millions, receipts of slightly under 125 millions. That makes another 145 millions to be added to our public debt which is now closely approaching 37 billions.

We have struck the European base. We are following the rutted European road, dictators and all.

France, in years gone by, partially due to a terrible and prolonged war, borrowed and borrowed and built up its public debt until finally it got to the place where people no longer wished to loan their money to a government bearing such a staggering load. When that point was reached her credit had become seriously impaired.

So, we are building up this public debt, building it higher and higher, needlessly building it too, building it because the President loves to spend but hates to pay.

The spender is always faced by smiles and applause. But the ruler who demands taxes, ah, that is another question.

A BRIDGE OF SIGNS

The Public Works Administration has rejected a request by the Mackinac Straits Bridge Commission for a loan and grant of $100,000 to construct a bridge across Mackinac Straits from the upper to the lower Michigan peninsulas.

The request is belated, and certainly was handled with gross neglect.

But a short time ago any man who brought such a request to the national capital would be kissed on both cheeks for his patriotism. Indeed, scouts with the instincts of bloodhounds were scouring the woods for follies to erect.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, the most persistent exposé of this foolish sort of wastage, has served his countrymen diligently and persistently until at last even the scatters of Farley's bounties are ashamed to be caught at their wicked work.

Yet it is not altogether clear what might have happened upon this Mackinac request had it been prepared a little more astutely. Affidavits should have been submitted showing that ten years ago two children were lost when their canoe was blown out into deep water by an unexpected squall. It might be reasonably argued that if the bridge had been there the children wouldn't have been in a canoe but would have been drawing charcoal faces on the bridge.

But unless you can get something in the record to weep over it is time to take to the woods.

ENFORCE THE RULES

In the Los Angeles area the other day five private aerial riders died in crashes of two airplanes. One, an old biplane that had been rented by its pilot, fell 500 feet into a vacant lot. The other crashed on a sidewalk killing its occupants and injuring a woman who was struck by a piece of metal which hurtled through the window of her home.

In Brooklyn, officials of the Bureau of Air Commerce have started an investigation of rules violation which allowed a 12-year-old boy to fly solo.

At Kewaupee two lives are suddenly snuffed out by a private plane crash.

We are told that the building of small airplanes for private use may be the next large-scale application of American production principles and that the next ten years will witness a great increase in the number of licensed pilots.

Already, aviation authorities are giving attention to the new problems of air traffic. One suggestion is that air levels shall be designated for planes traveling in the same direction.

A more pertinent suggestion would be that steps shall be taken, now, to insure drastic enforcement of present flying rules.

Present rules are adequate to insure maximum safety in the air, for planes and pilots now commissioned, if they are enforced. With increasing numbers of airplanes, there must be increasing vigilance on the part of Federal Bureau of Aeronautics inspectors. Additional rules can be drafted and put into effect as increases in air traffic warrant and as experience dictates.

There can be little doubt that airplanes that are individually owned and operated will come into general use. The time to establish regulatory precedents is now.

The reason that motor traffic regulation presents so many problems is that legislators and the drafters of local ordinances have been outstripped by automobile production. The Nation's motor traffic laws are a hodgepodge of conflicting rules and regulations.

There need be no such confusion in air traffic regulation. The task has been given to a Federal department. The consequences of inadequate motor traffic regulations can be studied with profit.

If the public is to accept the small, privately owned and operated, airplane as a natural development, there must be the most rigid insistence from the beginning on the observance of regulations. Any failure to enforce the rules will delay the day when the airplane is accepted for general use.

A GUESSING GAME

It is suggested that recent flare-ups between Soviet and Japanese troops along the Amur river may have been inspired by the desire of Soviet authorities to test the quality of the patriotism possessed by Russian troops.

Patriotism is as necessary, if an army is to be worth anything, as bread and beans.

There have been rumors of disaffection in Soviet army ranks. Officers, idols of their commands, have been executed.

No one may know with certainty what has occurred in the Far East. No one may predict with certainty the consequences of recent incidents.

Only one thing is certain. We cannot know what really is happening.

We have the versions of Moscow and Tokyo. We can be sure that the incidents are serious, else we would have learned little about them. It is the fashion, nowadays, in dictator-ruled countries and in militaristic Japan, to release only as much information about happenings as serves the need. Only lately and some time after the events described, did Turkish authorities announce the quelling of a revolt of Kurd tribesmen, the slaughter of 5,000 of them and the glorious victory of 30,000 Turkish troops.

The Turko-Kurdish campaign may have been unimportant, as campaigns go. The point is that nobody knew anything about it until it was all over.

The maneuverings of modern warlords are mysterious, to say the least. The newspaper reader will do well to read everything, believe little, and hope for the best.

It is not likely he will know in what direction some nations are heading. It is doubtful whether their dictators know.

MORE ABOUT THE MANDATE

Jonah:

We are reminded from time to time that the President has a mandate to do this thing and that, as the result of the November election.

Records indicate that the following is about what happened:

Roosevelt, approximately—28,000,000 votes.

Opposition, approximately—18,000,000 votes.

Population, over 21, NOT VOTING—28,000,000.

Estimated population over 21, excluding aliens—74,000,000.

From which we might infer that the President also has a mandate to sit and twiddle his thumbs.

SUNSET

The sun's reflection at the water's edge
Looked like a row of bonfires . . . We could see
The shadows of the night upon the hedge . . .
Birds sang a lullaby in the birch tree.

This was the long day's end . . . In glorious Surrender to the night, the sun went down . . .
Peace dropped its healing benison on us
Who had come down the green trail from the town.

If fear of old age cast its gloomy shade
Upon our graying heads, here was a sign!
The gorgeous exit that the tired day made—
The first faint star, expectant and divine!

SOLARIUM ATOP ODD HOUSE

Every well planned home should provide for sun bathing. Sun bathing is good for all of us, but it is most important for the baby. The baby who hasn't acquired a moderate coat of tan by the time he or she is a year old has not had a fair deal. After all, ultraviolet light from the sun is the cheapest and the best vitamin D, and no one can have it without a fair ration of vitamin D. This is the one vitamin that cannot be obtained in sufficient amount from natural foods. Practically the only natural foods that provide any considerable amount of vitamin D are egg yolk and milk fat (milk, cream, butter), and salmon and some other sea fish, both fresh and canned. Certain young growing green vegetables or fodder, such as alfalfa, hay, clover, spinach, probably contain small amounts of vitamin D but not enough to count in human nutrition. Experience in recent years proves that infants and children who receive suitable rations of vitamin D in one form or another to supplement their normal diet thrive better than infants who do not. The more sunshine the infant or child gets on naked skin the less vitamin D the child needs to grow and develop well.

The roof is the place for the solarium where ground space is costly. Provision should be made in planning a modern home for the solarium, not the half-enclosed veranda of the nineties, but a place where any and every member of the family can get all the vitamin D the sun offers. According to climate and situation the solarium should have means of protection against wind, against prying eyes of neighbors or passersby, against insects and, if winter comes, against extreme cold. The last mentioned protection implies either special glass that admits the ultraviolet rays of sunlight or some less expensive screen such as heavy celophane or chicken wire.

The definite purpose of such a solarium in Odd House is to counteract as much as possible the effects upon health of our custom of wearing clothing not for protection but because it is proper or conventional, and the block of glass that admits the ultraviolet rays of sunlight or some less expensive screen such as heavy celophane or chicken wire.

Your Birthday

"CANCER"
If July 20 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this day are from 8:45 to 10:45 a. m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p. m., and from 7:45 to 9:45 p. m. The danger periods are from 6:45 to 8:45 a. m., from 5:45 to 7:45 p. m., and from 9:45 to 11:45 p. m.

Physically you ought to feel fine this day. Vital powers will be stimulated, as a rule, through prevailing favorable influences, and life, as a whole, ought to be thoroughly enjoyable. The caution, however, to conceive through some mental image, a logical starting point on which to build something of a very practical nature. Farsightedness on the part of business men or women, is apt to save them many a dollar this day. Keep a sharp watch for OPPORTUNITY and your reward may be greater than your expectations.

You more than likely will find a remedy for most of your troubles this day. If you are optimistic, married and engaged couples, as well as those who are in love, must let no unpleasant doubt cast a shadow over their day.

If a woman and July 20 is your birthday, depend on your own common sense for guidance, and you will probably seldom go wrong. Your home may reflect your personality, so let it radiate contentment and happiness, which is a mental state you can develop. Take an interest in social affairs because it will pay you to do so. Deal in facts, not theories. Be careful not to mistake the efforts of friends and relatives to be helpful, as a desire on their part to be supercritical.

You ought to have the qualifications required to be a versatile entertainer, teacher, trained nurse, actress, lecturer or business woman. If love and common sense are the foundation upon which your matrimonial life is built, happiness can be the only result. The child born on July 20, usually reflects the best traits in its parents.

A Bystander In Washington

BY PRESTON GROVIE

Washington—Whenever some unit of government industry or labor shows a tendency to go haywire, events always seem to occur that arouse the public's indignation to act as a brake.

Labor got in bad by carrying the sit-down to excess in the automobile plants. Steel employers struck a sour note by declining to deal with labor leaders and later had to modify their position. President Roosevelt generated indignant public wrath with his court plan later was his congressional opposition later was his congressional opposition later was his congressional opposition.

Now, the police get theirs in a news film of the Memorial Day shooting of steel strikers in Chicago.

Sickening Scenes

Go to see it, and sit through a second showing. You see strike demonstrators backed away from a first display of gas and guns. They turn in seeming panic, then there is a burst of gun fire. Shirt-sleeved strikers fall in a wave. Police close in, clubs fly, cracking on the heads and shoulders of the fleeing as well as the fallen.

It's ghastly, and you feel more shock than anger. An officer strolls into the face of the camera, grins wryly at a fellow officer.

There is no use getting mad about it. The shooting and clubbing seem utterly wanton, and the police attempt at justification sounds futile. But it occurred a month or more ago and there is no sense in rushing from the show now to beat up the corner policeman. But a mighty good use can be made of the film, even at this late date.

How Not To Do

For a dozen years, or as long as that Chicago Memorial day affair can be remembered, every policeman in the land should be shown that picture. It should be run off before him while he is a recruit and again from time to time as he grows seasoned in his work.

When strike duty is in the offing, the police might well be assembled for a precautionary showing of the Chicago way of doing it.

It might be of high cultural value to bellicose, overbearing policemen (not all are) for law-abiding citizens to say to them from time to time: "Remember Chicago."

SMOKING IN LIBRARY

Marquette, Calif. (AP)—This town's public library is one of the few where smoking is permitted. A room where men may enjoy their tobacco was set aside at the request of John Quackenbush Packard, pioneer merchant, who presented the building.

USES FINGER FOR BAIT

Uvalde, Tex. (AP)—Carl Wright exhibits a scratched finger as proof that he caught fish with the digit. While his companions were preparing their lines Wright stuck his index finger in the water. Instantly, something bit it.

Thinking he had been struck by a snake he jerked his hand high in the air. A three-and-one-half pound bass fell on the bank.

HAS NAME TROUBLE

Santa Cruz, Calif. (AP)—When Felix Santa Cruz is asked his name, they often reply: "What's your name?" As a transportation employee, Mr. Santa Cruz often gets into confused circumstances because he is a namesake of this well-known seaside resort.

Under a pile of dirty rags whereon Beggar Raymond Garn of Paris, France, was found dead, police discovered $15,000 in stocks and bonds.

Suits that give you and the heat a cold shoulder.
$16.75

They've got a chip on their shoulder for hot weather and they'll take a burden off your shoulders the minute you try them on.

They're as smart in style as our woolen suits but not as smart in arithmetic, for these suits cost you only $16.75.

Think of it, while you are sweating . . . $16.75 to turn the hose on your troubles and keep it on all summer. Then we have extra trousers at $5.00.

Yes sir . . . it's a great store for hot men.

Warrant Issued For Woman Driver After Accident

Claim Stevens Point Motorist Failed to Stop For Arterial

New London—Alleged failure to stop at the arterial involved two cars in an accident at the corner of Highway 45 and 54 just north of the city about 4:30 yesterday afternoon but no one was injured but the cars were damaged.

Mrs. D. A. Merryville, Stevens Point, who was driving east on Highway 45, was summoned by New London police to appear in police court here this afternoon, charged with failure to stop at an arterial sign. She was accompanied by her husband.

The other car was driven by Harvey Beilgard, southbound to Chicago on Highway 45, who carried a full load of passengers.

Betty Van Alstine, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Van Alstine of this city, narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday when she was struck down by a car which passed over her body without the wheels touching her. She suffered bruises of the head, body, arms and legs when she was dragged a short distance by the car.

The accident occurred on Washington street near the intersection with Dorr street when Betty was returning home from the Hatten Memorial park at noon. She was walking in the road when the car, driven by Robert Kasey, emerged from the driveway of the Washington high school grounds. Kasey took the girl to the home immediately and thence to a physician where examination showed no broken bones.

Good Outlook for Crops at Chilton

Expected to Top Those of Recent Years in Quality and Quantity

Chilton—Not for years have the crops in the surrounding community given so much promise of a large yield as they do at present. If no severe heat or storms occur within the next three weeks, this year gives every indication of exceeding former years in both quality and quantity. Winter wheat and rye are now ripe and many farmers are harvesting these two crops. Winter wheat is particularly good.

It is many years since Calumet county had a cherry crop equal to that of the present year. Apples and other fruits are equally abundant and of excellent quality.

Mrs. William Arpke and the Misses Bertha and Cecilia Bosshard were at Milwaukee this week where they attended a gathering of the Bosshard family at the home of their brother, Emil.

Miss Georgiana McGrath, who teaches in the Cleveland schools, is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Frank McGrath, and other relatives.

Mrs. Anna Kopt and Mrs. George Bruckner were at Milwaukee Friday where they attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Mathilda Barth.

Bids Opened at Waupaca For Little Falls Bridge

Waupaca—Bids for the Little Falls bridge, town of Wyoming, County of Trempealeau, were opened at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the office of Highway Commissioner Charles Larson.

At a meeting of the county board of review last week it was revealed that several lots in Glenwood Park near the Veterans' Home, had never been taxed. Checking numbers on the plats it was learned that Nos. 21, 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29 were missing and had never had one cent of taxes paid out on them. This is part of the original Mort Taylor property.

County Treasurer L. J. Stadler reports that $98,000 remains unpaid delinquent taxes out of the $220,000 due. This amounts to 10 per cent of the total tax roll. Mr. Stadler had estimated that he would collect $100,000.

Group of New London Boys to Pick Cherries

New London—About a dozen New London boys left the city yesterday to spend several weeks at Fish Creek participating in the cherry picking harvest which is under way in that section of the state. Among those who went to work in the cherry camps are Kenneth Brault, Stewart Hammerberg, Jack Cole, Arthur Davy, Paul Monroe, Peter Laux, Junior Prahl, Douglas Hoier, Eugene Warnecke, Elder Bucholtz and Arleigh Zuege.

Seymour Woman Dies At Green Bay Hospital

Seymour—Mrs. Dorothea Schmidt, 82, Seymour, died of pneumonia at 9 o'clock Sunday morning at the Bellin Memorial hospital, Green Bay. She suffered a fractured leg in a fall a week ago.

Born Sept. 18, 1855, at Blue Mont, Dane county, Mrs. Schmidt lived at Seymour since 1886.

Survivors include five daughters, Miss Emma Mattis and Mrs. Minnie.

Firemen Extinguish Grass, Chimney Fires

Firemen extinguished two grass fires Sunday afternoon, the first on the railroad right-of-way at 1335 W. Prospect avenue at 1:30 and the second in the 1300 block of E. John street at 4:20.

A chimney fire at the Harold Schmeichel residence, 416 E. Nicholas street, prompted a call to the department at 11:30 Saturday morning. The fire caused no damage.

WHAM! HIS TIRE BLEW OUT AND A HAPPY VACATION CAME TO A SAD ENDING

Writes CLARENCE BUDINGTON KELLAND... famous author and creator of "Scattergood Baines"

The best part of my life has been spent in creating characters which hope have entertained fiction lovers. But here is a story from real life—and it is a story that will make you more than be repaid for my effort.

It's about Rogers Cox of Newton Highlands, Mass. Rogers, his brother, sister and a friend had enjoyed two weeks of fishing, golfing, dancing, swimming. Now it was all over—except for the long drive back home. As they rolled along the Newburyport Turnpike the unexpected happened. It was just as if someone had stabbed a spike into a giant balloon. WHAM! A front tire collapsed. The car, out of control, sideswiped two trees before a third tree halted its wild course.

Motors when A TIRE BLOWS OUT—well, it's too late to say "then!" The time for action is now—when you can easily drive in and say, "Put on Silvertowns all the way 'round." These three have something no other tire can give you—the Life!

Miss Dorothy Nissen the girls' foot race and Ernest Maynard the paper bag bursting contest at the picnic for Konomie lodge, Order of Odd Fellows, and Deborah Rebekah lodge Sunday at the William Toll cottage on Lake Winnebago. About 60 persons attended.

In addition to the contests, there were ball games, swimming, and other informal entertainment, and a basket supper was eaten in the evening. Walter J. Nissen was general chairman of the men's committee and he was assisted by Ernest Maynard and Henry Moritz. The women's committee included Mrs. George Gauslin and Mrs. Nissen.

Short Engagements are Blamed for Divorces

Austin, Tex.—(P)—The ideal engagement lasts 11 months and 11 days and the betrothal period of unsuccessful marriages lasts two months and six days.

Dr. C. W. Hall who conducts a popular "marriage" course at the University of Texas, says these are the medians of 300 happily married and 300 divorced couples he studied.

OWNERS TO MATCH WALLS

Paris—(P)—Matching dresses to walls is a new idea which is in vogue here. The Countess Antonin de Mun, whose new house has yellow walls, has a Mainbocher evening frock of yellow tulle designed to harmonize with the walls.

Arkansas in Last Tribute at Rites For Sen. Robinson

Nation's Leaders Join Little Rock Residents At Services

Little Rock, Ark.—(AP)—The epic chapter of the American history written by Joseph Taylor Robinson of Arkansas ended today in a flowery-embellished grave.

Scores of the nation's leaders joined thousands of saddened Arkansians yesterday in final tribute to the state's illustrious son as he was returned to his native soil.

The elements furnished a dramatic climax to the senator's greatest homecoming of nearly half a century in public life.

A blistering sun beamed throughout the forenoon. While the body lay in state at the Arkansas capital, a sudden shower scattered the mourners briefly.

The sun shone, swelling uncounted thousands who lined the three-mile route in the funeral procession, interrupted from the capital to the grave by services at fashionable First Methodist Episcopal church, South.

Torrential Rain Clouds darkened the sky as the cortege entered the gates of Rose-lawn Memorial park. Thunder echoed over the rolling hills. Rain splattered the mourners as the Rev. H. Bascom Watts intoned the burial ritual. Then a torrential downpour sent family and friends alike scurrying for shelter.

Vice President John Vance Gardner came from his home at Uvalde, Texas, to officially represent President Roosevelt. Postmaster General James A. Farley stood beside his grave. Nearly 90 of his senate colleagues and a large delegation from the house served as honorary pall bearers.

"Perhaps no man in our generation has been more nearly a representative American," said Mr. Watts in his funeral sermon at the church.

"When a history of the congress, and the crucial issues before it, in the last three decades is scientifically presented by careful students of the period, cannot omit him from rank with the foremost."

Body Taken Home The day of public sorrow began with the arrival of Robinson's body on a special train from Washington. Accompanying it was his grief-stricken widow, members of her family, the congressional delegation and other distinguished visitors.

For a few brief hours the gray casket remained at the family home—a private period during which Mrs. Robinson was allowed to be alone.

Then a military escort carried the casket to the state capital where for 3 hours a constant stream of people moved past it.

The prospect of a bitter party fight over selection of the successor to Robinson loomed as the state Democratic committee was called into special session Friday.

Governor Carl E. Bailey indicated a special election would be held about Sept. 14 to fill the post.

The 42-year-old governor, considered a certain candidate, held in his hands the power both to set the time for the election and to select a possible interim appointee.

Democratic national committeemen might receive the interim appointment but Bailey disclosed he had advised Postmaster General James A. Farley that he preferred to make no temporary appointment.

Former Governor J. M. Futrell, at odds with Bailey many times during the last three years, issued a statement last week urging that Mrs. Robinson be selected to fill her husband's unexpired term.

Alligator Farm Is Being Moved Homes of 6,000 Individual Reptiles Must Be Changed

Jacksonville, Fla.—(AP)—The Jacksonville alligator farm is moving to Daytona Beach and that means a moving day for 6,000 alligators.

Every one of them has to be tied and put in individual pens. As some individual reptiles weigh 300 pounds, a hard job is being undertaken by Ross Allen, head of the Florida Reptile Institute at Silver Springs, who has been employed to do the tying.

The alligators will not need feeding on the boat trip to their new home. They frequently quit eating for months at a time without ill effects. Officials here said the work of tying and transporting the 6,000 will require about ten days.

The oldest reptile in the group is "Old Ocklawaha," a huge, lazy creature whose age is estimated at 800 years. There are many over a century old.

Farm officials expect the greatest difficulty to arise in tying up the breeding stock, ranging in age from 35 to 70 years. While docile enough in winter, at this season these reptiles are easily enraged and lunge and snap viciously at anyone approaching them.

At Daytona Beach the alligators will be placed in a new municipal farm.

Board to Hold Hearing On Sewer Assessments The board of public works will conduct a hearing on sewer assessments for four towns at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the city hall. 82 Scouts Enrolled for 1st Week at Gardner Dam

BY WILLIAM SPAULDING

Eighty-two scouts and leaders opened the fifth camping season Sunday at Gardner Dam, the Valley Council's camping reservation.

Scouts representing Troop 1, St. Joseph's church, Appleton; Troops 6 and 13, St. Mary's church, Appleton; Troop 11, Mc Kinley Junior High school, Appleton; Troop 16, All Saint's church, Appleton; Troop 2 of the Methodist church, Appleton; Troop 31, Holy Cross church, Kaukauna; Troop 17, Seymour; Troop 29, Elk's club, Menasha; and Troop 9, Menasha Wood-ware company; Menasha; will form the first contingent for the 1937 season.

The camp is being directed by Walter Dixon, scout executive; whose chief assistant will be Harold Williams serving his third season as assistant camp director. Bob Schroeder, Neenah, and William Spaulding, Menasha, will serve as activities directors. Carlisle Runge, Seymour, will act as handicraft instructor and will be in charge of scoutcraft periods. William Heckrodt, Menasha, is in charge of the camp commissary and trading post and is assisted by James Schweers, Shawano. Anthony Gerarden, Appleton, is serving as steward in charge of the two mess halls which serve the two camps and scouts assisting the steward are Robert McCauley, John Trautman, Harry Braun, and Hubert Du Chateau.

Paul Bunyan activities will be the theme for the opening week and tales of Paul and his Blue Ox will enliven the various patrol programs. A campfire program opened the Sunday night's program. The camp staff was introduced to the campers by Walter Dixon and the campers in turn introduced themselves to the camp staff.

The Monday program was outlined to the group. The program for the week down the Wolf river with the Paul Bunyan days. The morning session calls for the usual fatigue period and cabin inspection and a general meeting to discuss the handicraft, scoutcraft, swimming instruction, and life saving periods. Many of the scouts are anxious to complete their Junior Red Cross life saving requirements and are planning to complete their work during the week.

Among those who spent the weekend at Gardner Dam were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bankert Little Chute. Bankert is scoutmaster of Troop 19, sponsored by the American Legion at Kimberly. Troop 19 will attend camp in a body later in the season.

George Klein, scoutmaster of Troop 1, together with Mrs. Klein also spent the weekend at Camp. Mr. Klein, who is the American Red Cross Life Saving examiner in Appleton, reviewed the camp staff in their life saving requirements.

Chinese Group Begins Battle on 'Chastity Halls'

Nanking, China.—(AP)—China's traditional glorification of widowhood is blamed by Madame Chiang Kai-shek's "New Life Movement" for turning "halls for encouragement to chastity" into "hells on earth."

In the old days widows who lived out their lives without remarrying were honored by the erection of stone arches at the expense of the state or the emperor's expense or with his sanction. The "face" gained by the deceased's family because of this lasting mark of imperial favor was so coveted that families made every effort to prevent the remarriage of their widowed women folk.

Sometimes they even went to the extreme of placing such unfortunate relics in "halls of chastity" whose barred windows and bolted doors prevented contact with the outside world.

Coming in for special condemnation by the "New Life Movement" is one such chastity hall in Hankow, where 680 widows are deprived of their freedom as completely as if they were criminals serving life sentences. One elderly inmate of this hall has neither seen nor heard from her family for 30 years.

When making canapes, it is advisable to toast the small bits of bread first and then spread with butter to give flavor as well as to prevent the topping from soaking into the bread. Often canapes can be spread just before serving. Sometimes they are spread in advance, then popped into a moderate oven for a minute to freshen and brown.

72 People Killed, 727 Injured in June Car Mishaps

Stationary Number of Accidents Is Encouraging Factor in Report

Eight hundred and eight accidents, with seventy-two fatalities and seven hundred twenty seven injuries were reported to the state highway commission in June, according to information received by E. R. Appleton, county highway commissioner. Wisconsin's heaviest traffic flow is pounding its way over streets and highways, but the accident list is almost stationary, according to Jack Cory, assistant traffic director.

Cory said the stationary number of accidents is the only encouraging factor in the June report, but the number of people being killed and injured is still high.

The June report compares with 800 accidents in the same month in 1936, with 75 deaths in June of 1936 and 741 injuries. So far in 1937 345 persons have been killed, with 3,262 persons injured. In the corresponding period of 1936 there were 288 persons killed showing a 19.7 per cent increase in fatalities for the first six months of this year.

Only 50 out-of-state drivers have been involved in serious accidents in Wisconsin, showing that the traffic problem belongs to the state. Increased traffic brought the intersectional accidents up, with 306 wrecks at intersections, 288 on straight roads, 142 on curves and hills, 406 on state trunk highways, 346 within city limits, 80 on county trunks and 31 on town roads.

Accidents have claimed 33 little boys and girls so far this year, and Cory asked that children be given another warning that playing on streets or highways is dangerous.

Camp Onaway Leaders To Discuss Problems

The second in a series of four classes scheduled for leaders of Camp Onaway, Y. M. C. A. camp to be operated from July 29 to Aug. 12, will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. building, according to C. C. Bailey, camp director.

Problems confronted during the first day of the encampment and adjustments between campers and leaders will be discussed Tuesday evening. Camp operation and training were taken up at the last meeting and camp programs will be discussed at future meetings.

Old-Fashioned Hammock Apparently Going Way of Red Flannels, Report

Milwaukee.—(AP)—The old-fashioned hammock, which played an important role in the romances and courtships of one and two decades ago, seems to have lost its "love" appeal as well as the other popularity it apparently once enjoyed.

At least that is what Wisconsin merchants have concluded. They almost unanimously agreed that the picture which used to depict a lovely young lady, attired in a gayly-printed summer frock and resting languidly in a hammock as her suitor gently swung her to and fro, has faded like the tinypens of years ago.

Many stores no longer stock hammocks. Those which do reported sales ranging from between four and ten a year. At Fond du Lac, one merchant said he had one, but he said it hasn't seen the light since 1925.

Wausau dealers said that perhaps only 10 are sold in the city during the year. The buyers, they say, are on the elderly and portly side, with no apparent romantic interests. The buyers' primary interest this year is comfort.

Only one Oshkosh store had hammocks for sale. At another establishment a comely young clerk in her teens shook her head in bewilderment and said she guessed she didn't know what a hammock was.

One Janesville dealer sold six this year, but he said the demand is more for canvas lawn furniture, and folding chairs. Another dealer said about one a year, and keeps two in stock.

At Madison, one dealer said he had sold 100 this year, but the purchasers were mostly middle-aged folks who owned camps in the nearby lakes region. This was the only city in the state reporting an increase in hammock sales.

"Hammocks must have gone where red flannels went," a Marsh-field dealer said. Another said he did not know where he could get them.

A Green Bay dealer, to make himself emphatic, said hammocks are going the way of the white linen duster formerly used for motor-ing. One firm said the auto trailer is helping in some measure to make them popular again.

They are at the vanishing point at Stevens Point.

"I would like to see a hammock," a prospective purchaser said. "So would I," responded the merchant.

There is little sentiment attached to their passing at La Crosse. "I took six of them a year ago," a store manager said, "and had to mark them down to get rid of them. I don't want anymore of them," he declared.

Poisonous Sumac Grows In Low, Swampy Places

BY CLARA HUSSONG

Although I have discussed poisonous plants in this column frequently, a letter was forwarded to me recently asking for more information on this subject. I am always glad to answer requests of this sort.

Which are the plants that are dangerous to touch? We have only two plants in the state that are highly poisonous to touch although several weeds, such as the nettle, have slightly poisonous properties. Except in unusual cases, the irritation caused by stinging nettle disappears in a few hours. It can be relieved by applying diluted alcohol to the affected parts.

The two plants which we need to fear are poison ivy and poison sumac. Learn to recognize these plants. Ask someone who knows the plants to point them out to you and when you have learned to recognize them easily, avoid walking through patches of poison ivy or through swamps where poison sumac grows. You may get poisoned by either of these plants without touching them directly, not because the poison is wafted to it is used again. The wearer of the garments may not be susceptible to the poison but anyone touching them may become as badly poisoned as though he had come in direct contact with the plant.

For severe cases of ivy or sumac poison a physician should be consulted. For light cases there are several home remedies which are helpful. Washing the affected parts in solutions of boric acid and hot water, salt and hot water, soda and hot water or any other home-made solution which has a drying effect may be the only treatment you need. Avoid using cold cream until all signs of irritation have disappeared. Avoid scratching and when drying your skin, pat, instead of rub. Your towels and wash clothes, must not, of course, be used by other members of the family.

Three Glossy Leaves To know poison ivy, remember that its warning sign is its three glossy leaves. Sometimes it grows as a shrubby plant and at other times as a trailing vine, climbing over stone walls, fences, or encircling tree trunks and telephone poles. It is one of our most common plants, growing in every sort of place; in low meadows, on gravelly railroad banks, in rich shady woods and on sandy hillsides. At this season the yellowish flowers are being replaced by clusters of pale green seeds or berries.

Sumac poison is more dangerous than ivy poisoning. To know this tall shrub you must first learn to know our friendly sumacs, the staghorn and the upland. The non-poisonous sumacs usually grow in sandy uplands but the poisonous sumac grows in low swampy places. If you find a sumac growing under the shade of elms, soft maples, tamaracs, cedars, or other swamp-loving trees you have reason to believe that this is the sumac to avoid.

Many Other Names The leaflets of the poison sumac grow in the same manner as in other sumacs but they are shorter and broader and fewer in number. The cream-colored flowers, which later are replaced by pale berries, grow in clusters at the same point where the sprays of leaflets are attached to the branch, not at the tips of the branch as the friendly, red-berried sumacs do.

What, then, is poison oak, you may ask. It is a poisonous shrub found in the southern states but both of our poisonous plants are frequently given this name. Poison elder, poison ash, poison dogwood are other names frequently given to poison sumac.

Method of Playing No Trump Hand Explained

BY ELY CULBERTSON
The declarer at a no trump contract should count his winners, not his losers. Having determined how many tricks he is short of his contract, he should look around for plays of all types that have a good chance to make up the shortage. Let us set up a typical dummy and declarer's hand, and plan the play for three no trump.

NORTH
♠ Q 6
♥ K J 10
♦ K 7 4
♣ 7 6 5 3 2

WEST
♠ 8 7 5
♥ A 6 4 3
♦ Q 10 5 3
♣ Q 9

EAST
♠ K J 10 8 3
♥ 8 7
♦ J 9 2
♣ K 10 4

SOUTH
♠ A 4 2
♥ A 9 5 3
♦ A 8 6
♣ A J 8

It will be seen that if South plays according to the plan just formulated he will fulfill his contract, and that no other plan would have any reasonable chance for success.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Question: What is the correct response to an opening one heart bid with the following hand:

♠ Q 6
♥ K J 10
♦ K 7 4
♣ 7 6 5 3 2

SOUTH
♠ A 4 2
♥ A 9 5 3
♦ A 8 6
♣ A J 8

South counts his sure winners, one in spades, two in hearts, two in diamonds and one in clubs, six in all. Three more winners must be established. South counts two possible long cards in clubs, in addition to his one immediate club winner. In hearts, a successful finesse for the queen will add two winners. Even if the finesse loses, one additional winner can be developed simply by giving up a trick to the heart queen. In spades, a finesse can be taken for the king, by playing the queen from dummy. If this finesse and the heart finesse are successful, the three necessary winners are found, but with only one finesse successful, establishment of the long club suit will be necessary. Since the spade finesse must be attempted at once, South plays the queen from dummy. East covers with the king.

South decides that the lead of the spade eight probably shows a short suit, so that East has five or more spades. South has only one stopper, so the suit will be established at once. If East gets in the lead once more, he can cash four spade winners, in addition to the card with which he gains entry, making five tricks in all and setting the contract. South, therefore, attempts a hold-up play. He allows East to win the first trick with the spade jack. East next leads the spade king, and South again holds up. A third round of spades is won by South's ace, dummy discarding the diamond four. In order to establish the clubs, South must lose two tricks, unless East has the club K-Q, in which case the contract is lost anyway. To keep East out of the lead, South must duck two rounds of clubs into West's hand.

South needs three entries to the North hand. Twice he must lead clubs, then he must return to dummy to cash the established long suit winners. Dummy has two sure entries, the heart king and diamond king. But here a grave menace threatens the established long suit. East and West already have taken two tricks. They must be given two more in clubs. While South saves two stoppers in diamonds, they cannot establish the setting trick in that suit, but if South gives up a diamond stopper, with their two entries they can establish the diamond suit. South must, therefore, find the entries he needs in the heart suit. He leads a small heart and finessees dummy's heart ten. This risks getting East the lead and losing the contract immediately, but it must be attempted, for to give up a diamond stopper would be suicide.

And now here is the complete deal that we have been discussing:

TOMORROW'S HAND
North dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

My Neighbor Says—

Severe pruning will cause young hedges to make heavy growth near the bottom of the plants. The result will be bushy, thick hedges from top to bottom. When hedges look skimp and thin, the explanation usually lies in the failure of the owner to trim them several times a season.

It is possible to apply a weed killer at this season, which will destroy most of the obnoxious weeds that infect lawns, without injuring the grass.

It is not too late to sow the seeds of various annuals to flower indoors in the early part of the winter. Such annuals as pinks, petunias, verbenas, sweet alyssum, nasturtiums and pansies will be grown quickly from seeds, and the plants will be large enough to pot up by the time frost comes.

Dig pulverized sheep manure or any good garden fertilizer into the ground around the plants in window boxes now. Flowers in boxes begin to grow smaller and fewer in number now because the plant food in the soil is becoming exhausted.

Fireplaces purify the air in any room and act as ventilators. The heat of the fire built in a fireplace causes the air to expand and rise through the chimney. This leaves a vacuum which the colder and heavier air in the room rushes in to fill.

Wash Hair Frequently In Summer

BY ELSIE PIERCE
YOUNG girls in their late teens are not only extraordinarily beauty conscious but are also beauty critical. They are very often referred to as "cats" or "kittens" by the sterner sex and is not meant as an affectionate term. Their constant comment "what an awful nose, what stringy hair, what frightful skin" wins them the feline sobriquet.

Often, however, their criticism is justified. The other day I heard a young one say of another equally as young, "She lives in the bungalow, but she has her hair back yard . . . curlers on her hair . . . such fussing. Mother says if she paid half as much attention to keeping her hair looking clean and fresh as she does to keeping it looking stylish coiffed her hair would be lovelier. She's a natural blonde, but half the time her hair looks dirty-blond it's so oily and grimy."

Cleanliness First Essential
The very first essential to hair beauty is cleanliness. Brushing, tonic and scalp treatments all help hair health, but shampooing remains the most thorough method of cleansing hair and scalp. Remember that the scalp is constantly throwing off secretions of oil and perspiration. Remember that dust and grime cling to an oily surface. And during the summer the oil and perspiration glands are more than normally active. Oil and dust have a way of making the hair look very dull, dank, unkempt. In the case of blonde hair the oil invariably darkens what should be truly a golden, cravering glory.

Thick, oily hair naturally needs more frequent shampooing than thin, dry hair and those living in dusty atmospheres, particularly at the beach, need more frequent shampooing than those in clean country towns. Don't let your locks become drab looking through lack of shampoos. Once a week is a fair average during the summer.

Work up a rich lather in the palm of the hand, using soap in jelly or liquid form. Do not rub the bar of soap tight on the hair or it will leave a curd or soap film too difficult to remove. Soap every strand of hair generously. Rinse thoroughly. Repeat. Two or three soaps are not too many during the summer. And at least as many rinsings. When the hair squeaks between the finger that's a good sign that soap has been completely rinsed away. For blonde hair you can make your own shampoo by shaving a pure lemon soap and allowing it to simmer in hot water. And the lemon rinse adds golden glints and helps to cut the soap film. The brunette green soap is good and the vinegar or camomile rinse brings out the reddish lights.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

BY EMILY POST

WHEN THE BRIDE'S PARENTS ARE DIVORCED

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother lives in the Far West and my father in the East, and ever since our home has been separated by divorce I have taught school in the mid-west, and really consider this my home. I am now trying to arrange my wedding, to take place here, and find that this condition of divorce has very far-reaching angles. Mother is coming here and so is father, and this occasion will bring about their first meeting since they separated five years ago. They are not antagonistic toward each other but I would hardly call their feelings friendly either. Ordinarily I realize that it is best for one parent to be absent from the wedding breakfast (usually the father) but I can not bear to hurt him (and be made unhappy myself too) by telling Dad that after the church ceremony is over and he has performed his eternal duty of walking up the aisle with me, he is not wanted at the reception. Perhaps it would be better not to have any reception at all. You see I don't want to lay myself open to criticism by my future home. Please help me!

Answer: The situation brought about by divorce are distressing problems in every community. Perhaps the best advice to give is to try to take your own problem as unemotionally as you possible can. The embarrassment which every one felt a few years ago when those who had been divorced met by accident in circumstances caused very few today to be disturbed unless personally concerned. In your own situation, the paramount question is how your parents themselves will feel about encountering each other. If this is likely to be painful to either of them, then it would be best to make definite plans whereby they can at least not meet face to face. For example, you can explain to your father that your mother will of course be standing near the door or entrance to the living room, and ask him to enter by the door through the dining room. Moreover, he can purposefully arrive a little late in order to give your mother plenty of time to kiss you and to wish you happiness and to begin receiving.

In other words, by the time he greets you she will have taken her place at the door. He would then stay at the farther part of the room and avoid the side where your mother receives. At table arrange with them that your father will sit at the far end of the table, and your mother at the near end. A quite simple plan of arrangement such as this would prevent their coming into embarrassing contact with each other. On the other hand, if they have no objection to meeting, then they merely behave with dignified inconspicuousness is perhaps the better word—friendliness. By this I mean they should not be conspicuously frigid nor on the other hand conversely affectionate in their manner to each other.

Middle Age Most Unhappy, Dangerous Period of Life

BY DOROTHY DIX
Speaking by and large, and of humanity in general, middle age is not only the most dangerous, but the most unhappy period of life. It is the age of indiscretion for men and of phobias and neurosis for women; the time when people who have always been as upright and conventional as a church steeple suddenly go haywire for no apparent reason except that they are fiftyish.

DOROTHY DIX

We all know more than one man who after being a devoted husband and father for thirty years, as domestic as the house cat and as reliable as old Dobbin, without rhyme or reason kicks over the traces and runs wild among the wild women until he lands in the divorce court.

Likewise, we know plenty of sane and sensible wives whose middle name was Prudence until they got to be fair, fat and 40 when they suddenly developed a siren complex and went flirtatious and began dyeing their hair and painting themselves up like a barn door and doling themselves up in flapper clothes and making eyes at boys young enough to be their sons.

And as for the women who are hale and hearty and cheerful until they are middle-aged and then develop mysterious complaints that turn them into melancholy wrecks, their name is legion. They crowd doctors' offices and fill sanatoriums and enrich high-priced specialists.

Of course, many explanations can be offered for this curious metamorphosis in their personalities that takes place at middle age in so many people. One is that it is the last flare-up of youth, the final call to the dining car. A man and woman have been jogging along through the years, not noticing that they were getting older and still thinking that they are a mere boy and girl, then something happens that jars them into the realization that they are no longer young, that they are middle-aged.

It throws them into a panic. It makes them feel that they must grab youth with both hands and hold on to it; that they must have a last fling; that they must have another bite of romance while they still have teeth to chew it, and so we have the middle-aged men who forsake their old wives for flappers and the middle-aged women who create scandals with their goings-on with gigolos.

The dangerous thing about middle age is that it tempts us to make fools of ourselves. The tragedy of it is that it finds so many of us unprepared for it. We have known in Old Gardener Says:

E. I. Farrington
It is a good plan to grow lettuce where the sunlight will be broken by taller crops like sweet corn. The best plan of all, however, is to grow it in a cold-frame, the sash being left off, of course. The sides of the frame break the hot air waves, and water is easily applied. If the waves of garden makers were satisfied to use leaf lettuce instead of demanding hard heads, they would have less trouble in getting lettuce from the home garden in summer. As a

Gray Squirrels at Home

In mild weather, gray squirrels build nests in trees. These usually are located in the crotch of a trunk, or where a large limb divides into parts.

A young squirrel on back of a friendly cat. (From a photograph.)

Ernest Thompson Seton tells of seeing a tame squirrel which had been kept as a pet for eight years by a farmer's family near Toronto. He states that the squirrel "was as young-looking and active as ever it was." That is an example of something which does not happen very often. People I have known who have tried to keep squirrels as pets always have had trouble with them. In one case the story ended when the squirrel tried to escape and was killed by a dog.

In their natural homes, squirrels seem to have a good time. They scamper about, and pounce with joy on acorns or nuts they discover. Hickory nuts are the favorite food of gray squirrels. The habit of burying them for use during the winter has proved helpful to people. The nuts often are forgotten, and are likely to take root and grow. It is believed that gray squirrels planted a large portion of present-day hickory trees.

Gray squirrels also eat berries, leaves, grain and roots. They store nuts in their nests, as well as burying them in the ground. A squirrel called "Oswald" used to run around the Lincoln park zoo, visiting a golf course. Oswald gathered "nuts" of a strange kind—golf balls! A keeper looked into his winter nest, and there he found 32 golf balls.

Mannerisms and Traits Must Adjust to Family

BY ANGELO PATRI

When children get to be old enough to have personal opinions, tastes and decided preferences they begin getting each other's nerves, and incidentally and quite thoroughly on those of their parents. The complaints are loud and continuous until there is a climax of some sort after which there is peace for a limited time. "Children always quarrel."

To be sure they do, but that is no reason for us to accept that state of mind as the normal one for the family. The nervous strain that such an atmosphere puts upon the father and mother is too much to bear. The disturbance among the children costs too much in energy and it wastes time that might better be used for more profitable activities.

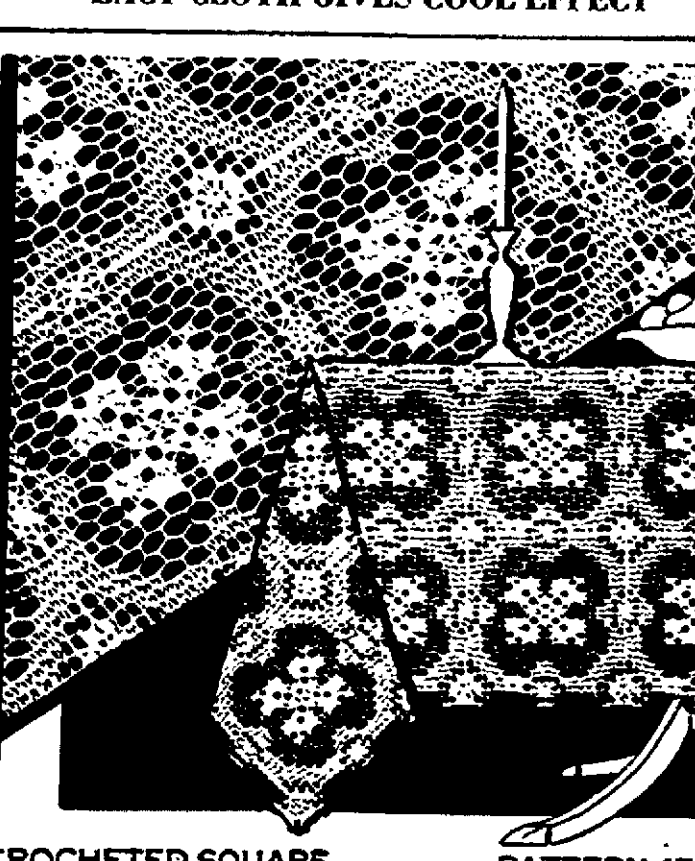

The friction is caused usually by little things, trifling in themselves, but taken together, just an impossible complication. One child wants a special chair and makes a scene when another sits in it which he does merely to assert his rights. One member of the family wants to hear the crooner and another demands operatic music at the same hour. One can't bear the smell of coffee while another loves it and wants a cup of it at his elbow against such barbarism. So it goes.

Then there are the idiosyncrasies of the parents that so annoy the children. Father will lie on the couch in the living room in shirt sleeves and slippers. Suppose somebody comes in? Mother insists upon seeing all letters, knowing everything about everything. Both of them think that children ought to stay at home all the time, or so it seems, and they insist upon chaperones. Even nine-year-old son complains of his lot. Mother makes him bathe too often and she turns his ears inside out every morning and sends him back to wash his neck.

Some of this is silly, taken by itself, but indeed the whole matter is serious enough to make any father and mother take heed. Of course there is a place where family authority is the only way out, but that ought to be a rare occasion. The children should have been trained from the start to share, to give and take, to adjust to each other. After all they come one by one, usually, and so allow us to train them to family cooperation.

But at the best the whole family will have to get together and decide where personal freedom leaves off and consideration for others begins. The radio will have to be shared. One person cannot use the exclusion of all the others. This

William was just lowering the pillow and the pillow as I lowered the door, shaking a long time later. The glass head had—Gay was empty, but the par's face was still ghastly, her eyes closed, and her breathing now fully audible from across the bed. I caught sight of Michael's face of perspiration were standing out on his forehead. His hands were clenched, his eyes shut. I rushed out into the hall, groping for a cigarette, only to deafen my ears to the sounds from the other room. I had had enough in the thought of the approach of reckoning failed to save me. The Skipper would tell the story. The police would come for my part at that moment I didn't care what she might tell or what they might do about it. I was as much a dead man as Michael. Or so I thought. Minutes before I realized that Mike had joined me.

"I got a cigarette," he said, "and a gloomy vizil had just begun. After a long time I became aware of the scene outside the door. The trees along the drive standing out in sharp relief and even see the outline of the hills in the misty gray light. I watched for five minutes of six minutes were within a few hours of the end.

"The getting light, Mike," I said drowsily.

A Hollow Feeling

Michael, staring fixedly out of the window, didn't stir. I put an expectant hand on his shoulder, expecting it to be shaken. It wasn't. I sat down and stood there. A sense of my feeling in the darkness in my head spelled break. I thought I had a feeling that once I was content with food I would not

My eyes darted to the Skipper's face. She hadn't stirred. Reaching over, I found her pulse to be strong and steady. Without hesitating I dashed into the hall in the direction from which the sound had come—the other side of the house, near my room. It must be in the servants' quarters. I crashed through the winking door, the door of Higgins' room standing open, and two more steps brought me within range of all I wanted to see.

Higgins lay sprawled grotesquely over the bed. In one hand was the much discussed revolver. A small, blue hole showed in one of his temples. There was a great deal of blood on the floor. The house was ringing with the ringing of bells.

"He's done it," shouted William. "He's done himself in."

I tried to answer, but I couldn't get out a single word. So it was Higgins after all. Higgins, the dignified, pompous old codger, to die like this! There were screams in the hall, screams and babbling voices. Mr. Farrington was resisting Michael's attempt to turn him away from the ghastly scene, and Gay on the other side of the old lady was doing her best to help. Beyond them in the hall, Annie was standing in her nightdress, wide-eyed and shaking. I took Gay's arm roughly.

"Go back to the Skipper," I said. "Don't leave her for any reason." Gay seemed to be the only person that was with a mind trace of sanity. She went without a word.

"Please, Aunt Martha," Michael was saying, "Come away. Please."

M. Farrington's voice went zooming up the scale wildly. "I will look! I must! I don't believe it! He was here before I was born! He—"

I tried my hand, "Aunt Martha," I said, shaking her none too gently.

Menasha Band, Followers Will Leave for Meet

High School Group to Play at Lions International Meet

Menasha—The Menasha High school band and its chaperones, members of the Lions club, and a group of townspeople will leave at 7:37 tomorrow morning for Chicago to attend the 4-day convention of Lions International opening tomorrow and closing Thursday.

The band's appearance at Chicago as the official Wisconsin representative has been made possible by the Lions club, Lady Lions, Band Mothers, and the youthful musicians themselves who joined in a 3-weeks drive to raise the necessary $1,200 for expenses.

People entraining tomorrow morning were advised today by the Lions club committee to be at the station early enough so that baggage and instruments can be checked before the arrival of the train that will bear the entire Wisconsin delegation to Chicago. The train will leave exactly at the appointed time, the committee pointed out.

Sell Tickets
For the past few days, round-trip tickets, reduced during the convention, have been sold at the Menasha Furniture company. Buyers have been given receipts, since the reservations were made by the committee, and on presentation of these receipts at the station tomorrow morning, will receive their tickets.

At Milwaukee, the band will make its first appearance, serenading the delegation from that city at the railroad station.

Arriving at Chicago at noon tomorrow, the band will march ahead of the entire Wisconsin delegation in the parade to the LaSalle hotel convention headquarters, and will play later at the Sherman and Morrison hotels.

Play in Concert
In company with other bands from all sections of the United States, the Menasha organization will be heard in a concert Wednesday morning in the Chicago Opera house, a part of the International program staged at the convention.

That evening, the 75-piece band will play and maneuver briefly as a special feature of the "Wisconsin Night" ball to be held in the LaSalle hotel.

The band contest, in which 100 organizations will compete, will be held Thursday morning on Soldiers' Field and will be broadcast over a national network. Under tentative plans, the Menasha group will play at about 10 o'clock. Required number are "March of Youth" by J. Oliverio and "The Trojan Prince" by G. E. Holmes.

Before a big-league baseball crowd at Comiskey park where the White Sox and the Washington Senators will play Thursday afternoon, the band will present special music and marching maneuvers.

Present History
A history of the band, which is directed by L. E. Kraft, will be given over the air by a baseball commentator.

Climaxing its 4-day activities at Chicago, the band will participate in a concert program during the ceremonies inaugurating the new president of Lions International, Frank Birch, on Thursday night.

A statement in appreciation of the manner which the city took up the spirit of the "On To Chicago" drive was issued by the committee this morning.

"We wish to express our appreciation for the splendid support the people of Menasha have given us in the huge undertaking to hold an advertisement of our city and the high school band," the committee message read.

Specific Mention
Specifically, the message mentioned the Band Mothers, the Brin theater, band members themselves, and business places and individuals who made cash donations to the cause.

R. E. Fahrback is the official delegate to the convention from the Lions club. At least 30 other members of the club will make the trip.

A group of townspeople are taking advantage of the reduced fares to accompany the band to Chicago and return some time within a week.

List Chaperones
Four members of the Menasha Band Mothers, chosen for their outstanding work in the ticket drive, will be among the group of chaperones accompanying the band. They are Mrs. G. E. Oberweiser, Mrs. F. M. Corry, Mrs. J. J. Oberweiser, and Mrs. John Chadek. Mrs. A. J. Armstrong, two nurses, Mrs. Sigrid Dudley and Miss Adeline Pauer, and three members of the Lions club, L. E. Kraft, band director, A. J. Armstrong, high school principal, and Allen Hoffmann, will complete the group of chaperones.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Younger are among the group of townspeople who will leave on the convention special tomorrow morning.

The Twin Cities office of the Appleton Post-Crescent for its editorial, circulation and advertising departments is located at 510 N. Commercial street and the telephone number is 4100. News items, copy or orders for advertising and orders for subscriptions may be left at the office or may be telephoned. This number also may be called before 7 o'clock in the evening for delivery of papers missed by carriers in Menasha or Neenah.

Neenah—The Neenah Board of Review opened its summer session at 10 o'clock this morning in the council chambers in city hall. Complaints of taxpayers in assessments are being heard. On the board are Mayor Edwin A. Kalfahs, City Clerk H. S. Zemlock, City Engineer A. G. Prunuske, Alderman Robert Martens and Supervisor C. A. Pope. The board will remain in session until all complaints are heard.

Pastor Will Attend School in Chicago

Neenah—The Rev. W. A. Jacobs, pastor of the First Congregational church, Menasha, will leave Wednesday for Chicago where he will attend the University of Chicago summer session for six weeks. The Rev. Jacobs will return to Menasha for Sunday services for the next two weeks.

160 Have Passed Swimming Tests at Municipal Beach

Neenah—Over 100 beginners, 40 swimmers and 20 life savers have passed tests at the Neenah Municipal bathing beach so far this season. Armin Gerhardt, playground director, said this morning.

With the season only half gone, the director expects that the number will be doubled before fall. Last year about 150 beginners passed tests, he said.

Parents who wish their youngsters to swim, but are reluctant to permit the children to go in the water, may contact the director or any of his assistants and special attention will be given to the new-comers. The instructors are on duty at the beach from 10 o'clock in the morning until noon each day.

Swimmers who have passed life saving tests are urged to do so again. Swimmers' tests involve doing a plain front dive, a swim of 300 feet, demonstration of the side stroke and one other standard swimming stroke, floating and treading water for 30 seconds. The director cautioned parents to allow youngsters to swim only once each day.

Margaret Webster, Grace Tipler Named Editors of Y Camp Paper

Neenah—Margaret Webster and Grace Tipler were chosen editors of the camp newspaper with a staff of eight reporters at the Twin City Y camp at Onaway island, Waukegan, Friday. During the opening days activities included a camp circus Friday with Miss Webster as ringmaster and an amateur night Saturday in which some real talent was discovered.

Camp fire programs were held under the direction of Miss Geraldine Anderson, camp director and associate director of the Y. W. C. A. Bits of gossip with an interesting column called "Letters to Aunt Sally" are featured in the camp newspaper which is read to campers during campfire programs. Reporters are Helen Wood, Ruth Graef, Eunice Moran, Doris Kuchembecher, Betty Leonard, Mitzi Mitchell, Jodie Draheim and Mary Ann Connor.

On Friday night Counsellor Helen Stroebel presented a circus. Frank Webb carried off the honors with a tight rope walking act in a costume of paper napkins. Doris Angermeyer and Jeanne Lawson drew laughs with their antics as clowns. Grace Tipler and Dorothy Wiberg masqueraded as a giraffe, elephant and horse.

A tumbling act directed by Miss Gretchen Fuechel was well received. Jeanette Wood, Betty Donovan, Joan Taylor, Barbara Brooks, Ardyne Brooks, Norma Redlin, Ardyne Fisher, Eunice Moran, Elizabeth Leonard, Lois Hanselman, Polly Draheim and Zora Johnson, somersaulted and cartwheeled to popularity with the audience.

The amateur night on Saturday gave everyone a good time. Mary Koppa, Rhineland, accompanied all the acts and played two piano solos, "Stardust" and "Swampfire." Zora Johnson, Mary Ann Connor and Eunice Moran presented tap dances. Lois Levandoski gave a mouth organ solo. Lois and Ruth Graef presented a piano duet and Louie Hahms and Doris Kuchembecher sang a duet. Frank Webb read "Foolish Questions." Dorothy Wiberg and Joan Graef presented a vocal duet and Mary Koppa and Lois Hanselman played a piano and trumpet duet.

Sunday was visitors' day and was begun by a chapel service at which Mrs. S. F. Shattuck gave a talk. Later in the day campers entertained their friends and relatives with a water carnival in which the older girls dived, raced and staged a tug-o-war.

Neenah—William Dowling and Donald McMahon, both of Neenah, spent today in Green Bay on business. Ira Cathin, 414 Elm street, is confined to his home with illness. Jack Tollefson, Neenah, spent the weekend at Pelican lake.

Miss Jane Jasman, 314 Bond street, Neenah, submitted to a major operation at Theda Clark Memorial hospital this morning.

Mrs. Edward Fueschel, Milwaukee, is visiting at the home of E. A. Fueschel, Columbian avenue, Neenah.

Walter Gertz, Two Rivers, and Delmar Brick, Manitowoc, were visitors of Paul Kuchel, 228 Third street, Sunday.

Miss Joan Elizabeth Gregory of Wauwatosa is spending a week with her aunt, Miss Emma Therman, 307 Torrey street.

Menasha Society

Menasha—The Women's Catholic Order of Foresters of St. Patrick church will hold a meeting and covered dish supper at Mrs. C. M. Hatton's cottage Monday evening. Following the meeting, cards will be played. Members will meet at the Kimberly School in Neenah at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. Transportation will be provided. Mrs. J. Donovan is chairman. Assisting her will be Miss Margaret Raush, Miss Nel Hubbard, Mrs. Marie Smith and Mrs. John Alward.

The Junior group meeting of the First Congregational church which was to be held this evening has been postponed indefinitely because of interior decorations being made on the church.

Chicago Firm Is Lowest Bidder on Courthouse Bonds

Eleven Companies Submit Proposals to County Committee

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau. Oshkosh—When 11 bids for the purchase of $550,000 worth of Winnebago county courthouse and jail building bonds were opened this morning by A. E. Hedke, county clerk, before the courthouse building committee and the finance committee, the joint bid of Halsey Stuart Co. and P. E. Joiner Co., Chicago, was low, offering a 2 per cent rate with a premium of $1,551.

Both County Clerk Hedke and Lewis C. Magnuson, district attorney, stated this premium would lower the interest charge considerably.

The bonds are dated May 1, 1936, numbered from 51 to 600 inclusive, and are in denominations of $1,000 each. Due serially, $550,000 will mature on May 1 each year from 1938 to 1948 inclusive. They were issued to provide funds to construct and provide a new Winnebago county courthouse and jail building.

The Winnebago county finance committee had set the maximum interest rate at 3 per cent, payable Nov. 1, 1937, and semi-annually thereafter. Bonds issued were approved by Chapman and Cutler, Chicago attorneys.

The finance committee moved the joint bid of the Halsey Stuart company and the P. E. Joiner Co. be approved and accepted as the low bidder, subject to approval by the county board. Chairman J. F. Shea has called a special meeting of the board for 10 o'clock Thursday morning, July 22, to consider the bids on the building bonds as well as routine business.

The finance committee besides J. F. Shea, chairman, is as follows: A. F. Ulrich, Gus Kalfahs, Sr., William Caswell, Frank Bartlett, Arthur Rehbein, Byron Gunz, Charles Ackerman and I. W. Clark.

Club to Hear Report On Scout Jamboree

Menasha—A report of the national jamboree of Boy Scouts at Washington, D. C., will be given at a meeting of the Menasha Rotary club Wednesday noon at Hotel Menasha.

J. Wesley Olsen, scoutmaster of troop No. 9, Menasha, will be in charge of the program. Olsen headed a group of five scouts from this city who attended the jamboree. Herbert Hartung, Waldo Friendland, Jr., Tom Kolasinski and John Bullard returned with Olsen from Washington, D. C., last week.

The fifth Boy Scout from this city, Billy Spengler, went on to the International Jamboree in Holland.

AT CONFERENCE

Menasha—Mayor Walter E. Held went to Green Bay this morning to confer with WPA authorities. He planned to return this afternoon after the business conference.

Boys Make 90-Mile Trip Around Lake on Bicycle

Start Checker and Croquet Tournaments For Neenah Girls

Neenah—Ten members of Earl Williams' group of the Boys Brigade returned to Neenah Sunday evening from a 90-mile bicycle trip around Lake Winnebago.

The boys left at 8 o'clock Monday morning and arrived at Calumet harbor about 11 o'clock. During a campfire program in the evening, Captain Lyall Stilp told the boys of a recent 90-mile canoe trip down the Wolf river. On the return trip, the group stopped at a museum owned by Mathew Ludolf at Fond du Lac. Contained in the museum is a collection of mounted birds and animals, Indian lore, library books, collections of bottles and autographs and a stamp collection of over 13,000 stamps.

Leaders who made the trip are Mr. Williams, Captain Stilp and Stan Menning. Members of the Brigade who circled the lake are Roger Boughty, Oliver Evans, Lester Redlin, Robert Kollath, Richard Meyer, Kenneth Redlin, Al Sturges, Robert Wood, Donald Jape and Werner Fahl.

Official to be Moved to Neenah

J. Leslie Sensenbrenner Gets New Post With K. C. Company

Neenah—J. Leslie Sensenbrenner, who has been manager of the two plants owned by the Kimberly-Clark Corporation at Niagara Falls, New York, for the last ten years, will be transferred soon to Neenah. J. F. Sensenbrenner, president, said today. He will occupy the position of assistant to the general sales manager.

Cole G. Parker, who has been associated for many years with the firm of Wise, Whitney Parker, New York attorneys, has accepted an invitation to associate with the K-C corporation in an official capacity. Mr. Sensenbrenner said. Mr. Parker intends to move his family to Neenah in the near future.

State of Texas Seeks Millions in Two Suits

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Texans are speculating whether a deficit of approximately $10,000,000 in the state's general revenue fund may be paid, and a tidy sum laid up in addition, through two pending law suits.

In one suit the state is asking $17,500,000 penalties from more than a dozen of the major oil companies, charging they conspired to violate the Texas anti-trust laws.

In the other suit the state seeks to recover inheritance taxes on the estate of the late Col. E. H. R. Green. Exactly how much the taxes may total is not known, but it may be several million dollars.

The issue in the Green case is whether his residence was located. Several states claim it. The case will be argued before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Vets Tell Tallest Tales

San Angelo, Tex. (AP)—World war veterans are scratching their heads. Those with the best memories will be rewarded.

For the "tallest" true war stories the San Angelo Standard-Times is offering cash prizes of $150, $75 and $25. Possible stories include narrow escapes, comic events or unusual things done in action. Stories must be in the office of the Standard-Times by August 1. Any veterans may compete. Winners will be announced at the Texas American Legion convention here, August 21-24.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau. Oshkosh—A marriage license was issued today by A. E. Hedke, Winnebago county clerk, to Frederick C. Scheibler, 127 Lake street, Neenah, and Sylvia A. Richardson, 214 Locust street, Appleton.

PLAN CAMP TRIP

Menasha—Plans for their stay at Gardner Dam will be aired at a meeting of troop No. 9 of Boy Scouts tomorrow night at Smith park at which J. Wesley Olsen, scoutmaster, will preside. The scouts will leave for Gardner Dam next Sunday.

Woman Air Mail Guard Keeps Hands Near Pistol

Houston, Tex. (AP)—It's an easy job being an air mail guard. And Mrs. Ruth Langford, probably the only woman air mail driver in the U. S., enjoys her work.

Eight times every day Mrs. Langford and her husband carry the mail between the Houston post office and the municipal airport. Mrs. Langford's hand is always near the holster on the airport-post office trips.

Is she afraid? "Of course not." Where did she learn to shoot? In Georgia—"knocking squirrels out of trees."

Twin City Births

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lange, 715 Main street, Neenah, at Theda Clark Memorial hospital Sunday afternoon.

The Klondike gold field reached a peak output in 1900 of 1,077,553 fine ounces

Sportsmen Will Air Their Views Of Regulations

Conservation Department To Hear What Individual Groups Want

Madison.—(P)—Wisconsin sportsmen will tell the conservation department staff here tomorrow and Wednesday what kind of hunting and fishing regulations they want for the ensuing year.

William Grimmer, state superintendent of game management, predicted a "lively" meeting. Numerous recommendations, some showing sharp conflict of opinions, were prepared at recent county meetings, he said.

One of the major clashes is likely to occur on the proposal of some hunters for an open season on deer this fall. This group, Grimmer said, is bucking precedent since there has been an open season in a large block of northern counties last fall and it has been customary since 1912 to allow deer hunting only in alternate years.

"I'm not sure that the group wanting a deer season is going to press its proposal," Grimmer said, "but if they do there is certainly going to be opposition, and those boys can tell each other plenty."

Grimmer withheld any further information he obtained from reports on county meetings held earlier this month, at which three delegates and two alternates to the statewide conference were chosen.

Many sportsmen drop in unofficially at the annual session, and preparations have been made to have a crowd of about 300. The conference will start at 10 tomorrow in the Lorraine hotel. Game regulations will be discussed the first day and fishing the second.

A woman will attend as an official spokesman for the first time since the county committee plan was adopted. She is Mrs. Edward A. LaBude of Milwaukee, a leader in women's club activities on conservation.

"Women's interest in hunting and fishing has grown tremendously in recent years," Grimmer commented.

'Yankee Jack' Closes Trading Post Shop

Moose, Wyo.—(P)—"Yankee Jack" Woodman, manager of the Flying V trading post well known in this part of Wyoming, is "abdicating." He said so in an advertisement in a newspaper. He explained his customers "never had paid yet."

The advertisement offered his overdue accounts for sale at one cent on the dollar and, in addition, described a "complete postoffice," except government equipment, with fresh stock of stamps from New York that he would sell.

"To the purchaser of the post-office and these dead-bird accounts we will donate one mayor's chair and one justice of the peace gavel," he added.

Boy Is Violin 'Genius' At Age of Seven Years

Memphis, Tenn.—(P)—At the age of 7, Ethel Joy Brown excels with her quarter-size violin.

She tucked the instrument under her chin at the state violin trials at Nashville and played the "Hobgoblin Dance," by Goby Eberhardt. When she had finished, the judges called an intermission. They took the child into a side room and had her play for them again and again.

Then, though she had studied only nine months, they gave her the highest award of her class and the highest average of all contestants. Joseph Haber, Memphis concert violinist, thinks the child is a genius.

Appleton Marketmen At Valley Picnic

A group of Appleton retail marketmen and their families attended picnic Sunday at the Oshkosh Power Boat grounds, Butte des Morts.

About 350 persons attended the affair and Elmer Rehbein, Appleton, was a member of the arrangements committee. Games and contests featured the entertainment program.

Missouri's Amazing Baby Expected To Grow Up to be as Smart as a Whip

Bonne Terre, Mo.—(P)—What the future holds for little Mary Christine Dunn is hard to say but Dr. John F. Nafe, Washington university psychologist, who calls her "the most remarkable child I've ever seen," is confident she will continue to be advanced mentally beyond her age.

Mary Christine's intelligence quotient is 45 points more than the 140, normally identified with "genius." But she is a normal baby with normal interests.

"Her memory span is that of a year-old," says the St. Louis psychologist. "And she is completely unspoiled, which of course is directly to the well-nigh perfect environment her parents have given her."

Parents Don't Push Her. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Dunn, first became aware of the precocity of their only child when they read of the accomplishments of a 3-year-old in Iowa. Why, Mary does all those things and more," they said to each other.

In guiding the child's development, they have attempted to make her education as casual as possible and to teach her only those things for which she seemed ready.

When "mummy" and "daddy" hear her complete vocabulary, Dunn recalls that he saw the baby staring intently at the ceiling. He looked up and noticed a shroud of cobwebs waving slowly overhead.

COLORED FOLKS GATHER FOR BAPTISMAL SERVICE

It was an occasion for a big foregathering of colored folks at Oyster Bay, N. Y., for the annual baptismal services of the Emanuel Baptist church. Robed choristers sang during the services. Negroes from many near-by villages thronged the shore to watch the religious proceedings.

Send Materials to Help Farmers Fight Hoppers

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau. Madison.—A carload of sodium arsenite poison, consisting of 60 drums, will reach Waupaca county farmers early this week to aid in the campaign against grasshoppers which have reached epidemic proportions in that area, according to E. L. Chambers, state entomologist.

Reports received at the state entomologist's office from George Massey, Waupaca county agent, indicate that the insects have already made great inroads on the small grains and other crops of Waupaca county farms.

The insects have also invaded Door, Marinette, Shawano and far-extended Brown and Outagamie counties, Chambers reported. Besides Waupaca county, the areas in which conditions are described as "very serious" are in the southern and northwestern portions of the state.

Chambers added that the hopper menace in Waupaca county is especially serious because of the proximity of the dry belt. He counseled farmers to spread the poison on their fields even if the crops have been ruined, in order that the egg infestation may be reduced, and the danger of a recurring plague next year may be minimized.

Ex-Servicemen May Get 'Flag' Caskets. Washington.—(P)—Former soldiers and sailors of peacetime as well as war veterans will be provided with national flags for burial under a bill approved by the senate military affairs committee.

The estimated cost of the flags ($7 each) would be $82,800 for the first year and would increase later. The bill would apply to honorably discharged former service men and women of all branches of the military service. Existing laws provide for draping only the caskets of veterans with actual war service.

Prepare for Paving N. Morrison Street. Koeper Construction company workmen began preparations on N. Morrison street today for paving. The company also will pave on S. Lawe street, W. Packard street and Ravinia place. The contract was awarded the construction company recently by the common council.

When work on N. Morrison street is completed paving W. Packard street will be started.

ADMITTS DRUNKENNESS. Marvin C. Allen, 37, Bellevue, Iowa, paid $10 and costs in municipal court this morning after he pleaded guilty of drunkenness. He was arrested by Appleton police Sunday.

"Cobweb, eh?" he said. And the baby repeated, "cobweb."

This practice of repeating words older persons have used explains the child's extensive vocabulary which Mrs. Dunn estimates at more than 3,000 words. She pronounces and uses correctly many multi-syllable words such as "monochromatic," "chrysanthemum," "Mississippi," and "pendulum."

Knows The News. Simply by listening to her elders, Mary Christine has gained a knowledge of current events. She is familiar with the names of President Roosevelt, Hitler, Mussolini, Gandhi, Haile Selassie and King George VI.

She can recite her ABC's although attempt has been made so far to teach her to read and she can count to 20.

Like all children her interests are varied. She is fond of her tricycle, teddy bear, dolls and Easter bunny. She likes to romp in the backyard. She finds picture books engrossing and she has a marked aptitude for music.

Her mother, who is 40, is a high school graduate while her father, 44-year-old member of the St. Joseph lead company's safety department, attended high school and business college.

Neither parent has a ready explanation in heredity for their daughter's talents. But Dunn has two nephews who are advanced mentally for their ages and Mrs. Dunn has nieces who are "bright."

Successful contractor of contractors shall carry public liability insurance to protect the county against loss or damage.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept any bid which may be most advantageous to Outagamie county.

All bids will be publicly opened by the County Highway Committee or an authorized representative. Dated this 15th day of July, 1937. F. R. APPLETON, COM. COUNTY HIGHWAY COMMITTEE.

Constitution Is Latest Issue in 2 Latin Nations

Bolivia and Paraguay Under Power of Militarists

BY PAUL SANDERS. Buenos Aires.—(P)—South American problem children—underdeveloped Bolivia and Paraguay, who have not yet settled their territorial dispute from the Gran Chaco war—are giving their large neighbors something else to talk about. They are planning new constitutions.

The two military men who came to power in the countries during the political convulsions which followed the struggle both have indicated their sympathy for socialism. But how far either government will depart from the traditional federal pattern of the United States remains to be seen.

In Paraguay, Colonel Rafael Franco, who has been president a year, proclaimed "totalitarianism" as one of his first acts but amended that to "a national democracy of workers and peasants."

In Bolivia, Colonel David Toro proclaimed a "socialist" state after taking office last May. He announced a 53-point program which provided for compulsory work by all able-bodied men, compulsory organization of workers and employers' syndicates, wage increases in accordance with higher living costs, insurance for employees in all commercial enterprises, and gradual nationalization of transports.

Toro's foes, however, assert that machinery to put these measures into effect has never been set up. Some observers expect a compromise with a legislative house composed of representatives of workers and employers' syndicates.

Veteran Military Pilot Claims Its Still Tough Job

Miami, Fla.—(P)—It's still a tough job being a military pilot. So says Major Bernard L. Smith, 52, oldest active officer in the navy or marine corps.

"Look at the instrument board," he says. "It's all one man can do to keep up with the instruments."

Major Smith, who commands the marine aviation unit at OpaLocka, got his first flying orders May 21, 1912. He was "naval aviator No. 6," only five men received flying orders from the navy before he came along.

The greatest development in aviation? In motors. "They just don't seem to fail anymore," he says. "To be sure, I realize full well that the distress of unemployment must be properly regulated and distributed, and that curtailment of production of crops, oil and other commodities may need to be regulated in the public interest."

LEGAL NOTICES. SEaled Bids will be received by the undersigned City of Appleton, up to 2 p. m. July 27, 1937, for giving the city with one 1937 motorcycle.

Equipped with speedometer, spark guards, leg shields, wind shield, sirone side car.

One side car cover. A certified check of 25% of the amount of the bid must accompany each bid.

The council reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Dated July 8, 1937. CITY OF APPLETON, WIS. Carl J. Becker, City Clerk.

Claim Science Is Responsible for Abundant Life

Dr. Compton Holds Distribution Is New Thing Under Sun

Dearborn, Mich.—(P)—Science has made possible "a new thing under the sun," the more abundant life generally distributed, without one man making his gains of another man's losses, and research in pure science must receive public support if this happy state is to be stabilized, according to Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

In pre-historic ages, Dr. Compton pointed out to the conference of agriculture industry and science, advanced cultures arose, but their brilliant accomplishments were always based on the exploitation of others. The Israelites gained their Promised Land only by exterminating the Canaanite nations already in possession there. The Greeks and Romans accomplished their miracles of art and learning, soldiery and law only because they had slaves in the back of the house to do the hard and dirty work.

"But there is something new under the sun," Dr. Compton continued, "in that modern science has given mankind, for the first time in the history of the human race, a way of securing a more abundant life which does not simply consist in taking it away from some one else. Science really creates new order and opportunity where they did not exist before. Whereas the old order was based on competition, the new order of science makes possible, for the first time, a cooperative creative effort in which every one is the gainer and no one the loser."

Dr. Compton told the government to task for spending much time and money on regulatory and restrictive efforts in the field of existing technology and knowledge, and giving little support, relatively speaking, to much-needed research.

"I have frequently felt discouraged by the apathy, and sometimes almost antagonism which has appeared to exist in high places in respect to this scientific program," he said. "To be sure, I realize full well that the distress of unemployment must be properly regulated and distributed, and that curtailment of production of crops, oil and other commodities may need to be regulated in the public interest."

Red Hair Is No Sign of Temper, Says Professor

Austin, Tex.—(P)—The popular belief that persons with red hair have a temper is discounted by Dr. D. B. Klein, professor of psychology at the University of Texas.

"No relation has been worked out yet between a certain characteristic and a given bodily trait," he says.

The average person may remember only the outstanding examples when he forms an opinion. The belief that a person with red hair has a bad temper is a popular one. No doubt every person can think of an example among people he has known. We tend to forget the ones with mild tempers and remember only the hot-headed ones."

KIMBERLY—Kaukauna's Electric City Brewers came over last night and walloped the Kimberly Papermakers 12 to 3 to take over undisputed possession of first place in the Northern State league. It was a big night for the Kaukauna boys at the plate, every player hitting safely at least once, while five players boasted three hits apiece.

Lefty Behr started on the mound for Kimberly, but left the game after three consecutive hits in the seventh, with Kimberly trailing 6 to 3. Before Kozloski was able to finish the innings, Kaukauna had shoved its total to 11 runs.

The sensational fielding of Zelinski was outstanding and the little Kaw third sacker got a big hand from the crowd every time he came to the plate. He drew a lot of sympathy when he was struck on the head and knocked out by a pitched ball in the eighth frame. Besides robbing Kimberly of a flock of infield hits Zelinski checked out a hit, stole a base and tallied once.

Kaukauna opened the initial frame with two runs and Kimberly scored once in its half of the frame. The Brewers showed in two more runs in the third and Kimberly scored twice in the fourth. A pair of runs in the sixth, five runs in the seventh and one in the ninth completed the scoring.

Bowers Gets Triple
Bowers sizzled a long drive into left field after whiffing at two low lefts as the game opened. The fielder went up against the fence in an effort to catch the ball. Bowers reached third and scored when Vils lined a double into center. Powell was thrown out from third to first base and Eggert came up with a double to score Vils. Radder fanned and Zelinski popped to the right fielder.

Zinth grounded out and Schroeder followed with a single for Kimberly. U. Wildenberg flied to center and Bowman cracked one that was muffed by the short stop, but Schroeder tallied.

A fly to the centerfielder by Vils started the third frame. Powell drew a base on balls and scored when Eggert clouted a single, his second hit of the evening. It was a big night for the Kaw's first sacker as he cracked three hits in four trips and drew a walk to get into the Kaukauna "ranger's row". Three singles by Hawk, Horn and J. Wildenberg gave Kimberly two more runs in the fourth. Wildenberg's single gave Horn and Hawk the opportunity to tally but the threat ended with two grounders and a fly to right field.

Scoring Guns Fire
Kaukauna scoring guns let out a 2-run blast in the sixth when Carver and Bowers scored on Powell's double after Vils sacrificed to advance the runners.

Another barrage was let loose in the seventh and Behr retired. Radder opened with a double and scored on a second two base hit by Zelinski. Kappell got his only hit

Miss Bateson Is Golf Favorite

Women Open State Tournament at Westmoor Course Today

Milwaukee. —(P)—More than 100 women golfers today began the annual chase at Westmoor Country club for the Wisconsin State Women's Golf championship now held by Goldie Bateson of Milwaukee.

The pro-ladies event, a new feature of the tournament, was won yesterday by Mrs. C. B. Mac Crossen and Johnny Bird of Milwaukee. Mrs. Mac Crossen scored a 91-11 and bird 71 for a 154 total.

The combinations of Frances Hadfield and Frances Gallett, of Milwaukee, and Marie Nickles and Kully Schliet, of Madison, tied for second place with nets of 153. Miss Hadfield had 88-5, Gallett 73; Miss Nickles, 90-7 and Schliet 75.

Tied for third were Janet Newton with 105-22 and Phil Greenwood, Madison, with 78, and Mrs. Russell Mann, 86-2, and Elmer Seeling, Milwaukee, with 77.

Miss Bateson established herself as the favorite to retain her title by shooting an 81, the score among the women in the pro-ladies event.

Noble Kizer Seriously Ill at Lafayette, Ind.

Lafayette, Ind. —(P)—Noble E. Kizer, one of the seven husky "mules" who paced the gridiron at Notre Dame more than a decade ago, was seriously ill at St. Elizabeth's hospital today.

Kizer, now head football coach and athletic director at Purdue university, is suffering, hospital officials said, from a septicemic ailment.

MANAWA—New London edged out Manawa, 2 to 1, in a Wolf Valley league game played here Sunday and featured by a pair of grand pitching performances on the part of Ivy Beckert and Bronko Sabrowsky and some brilliant defensive play by Marty Malloy, Manawa shortstop, who accepted 13 out of 14 chances. Both teams rapped out eight hits, but Beckert was accorded the steadier support when he needed it and this accounted for the New London victory.

Orin Krohn, who was the big thorn in the side of the Wolves all afternoon, scored the Brews first run in the third inning when he singled, advanced to second on a passed ball, and trudged home on Beckert's slashing one base hit down the third base line. In the sixth Tip Krohn added to the family laurels by hitting safely to left with two away, and scampering all the way to the plate when Keilen dropped McClone's pop fly.

Manawa had trouble with Beckert all the way, although the Wolves had at least a hit an inning after the fourth. Lindow and Glocke both hit safely in the sixth, but the former was caught sliding into third on a perfect throw from Palmer to Tip Krohn, which spoiled the rally. It wasn't until the eighth that the home team dented the plate. In the final inning, Glocke, who had been hitting the ball savagely all afternoon, doubled to center and scored on Volkman's scratch hit, which Krohn threw into right field. The tying run on second base and no one out, things looked promising for the Wolves, but Beckert forced Keilen to fly to Palmer, and then fanned both Shingler and Guerin to end the game.

Glocke was the only Manawa player to reach third and only one New London player aside from the pair who scored, got to the far corner all afternoon. That occurred in the ninth inning when singles by Schimke and O. Krohn, plus an error and a stolen base, put runners on second and third with two away, but Sabrowsky struck out Beckert for the final out.

In other league games Shawano defeated Waupaca 7 to 0, Clintonville shut out Weyauwega 6 to 0, and Neopit won over Marion 4 to 2.

Ruchl, Leavens Seeded No. 1 and 2 in Net Meet
Milwaukee. —(P)—The fourth annual Badger State Open Tennis tournament started today with two veteran Milwaukee players, Milton Ruchl and Don Leavens, seeded No. 1 and 2 respectively.

Ruchl, winner of the championship in 1936, and Leavens are favored to reach the finals of the men's singles. The field comprises 32 players.

Harrison O'Neil, Milwaukee, junior title seed and seeded No. 4 in the men's singles, heads the junior draw, followed by Sherwood Gorenstein, Milwaukee, Thomas Stokes, of New Orleans, and Emmett Steele of Madison, S. D.

Robert Lake, Milwaukee, heads the boys' field of 16. Play will continue through the week.

Orioles Win Title In Junior City Loop
Orioles won the first round title in the Junior City league, according to standings released Saturday.

The five games and lost one. The Bluebirds were second with three wins and three defeats and were tied with the Hawks. The Aces won one and lost five and ended on the bottom.

In the first games of the second round the Orioles defeated the Hawks 14 to 2, and the Aces beat the Bluebirds, 8 to 7.

Today the Orioles met the Aces at the First ward field, Wednesday. The Aces and Hawks will show at Jones park and Friday the Orioles and Bluebirds will show at First ward.

WINS GOLF TITLE
Joseph J. Plank, above, veteran Buttes des Morts golfer, won the senior championship of the Northern Wisconsin Golf association Saturday when he defeated C. F. Pfeiffer, Green Bay, 3 and 2.

Frank Cornelson, Green Bay, won the association's championship with a 3 and 1 victory over Clarence Hornung, Fond du Lac. Hornung eliminated Charles "Sonny" Schriber, the defending champion, John Gosin, Green Bay, defeated W. Frank Kerwin, Green Bay, 6 and 5, in the second flight. Russell Bauman, Green Bay, won the third flight over Victor Kant, Clintonville, 4-3. John Mannbach, Green Bay, took the fourth flight, 4-2, over his clubmate, V. E. Hendrie.

Lucassen flied out to start the third and Lewis whiffed. J. Lamers singled and was advanced on Baker's single, but Dombrowski flied out to leave the runners on base. The first Little Chute run came in the fourth inning. The second run came in the seventh when Lucas singled, advanced on Strick's sacrifice and scored when "Baker" walloped his second hit.

Bob Lamers figured in a heart breaker in the eighth inning when he drove out his third hit, a three bagger. Ellis grounded out to the shortstop and Peotter lofted to Weisberger came up for the second time with a runner on third but fouled out to Sorrell in the last chance to score Lamers.

Hits that failed to come in the pinches again spelled defeat for the Little Chute team. Good field work on the part of Schoepke's mates kept him out of trouble time after time.

Score Winning Run
Two men were out and the batter had two strikes when J. Lamers led the ball get away in the eighth inning. Sorrells scored on the play and Wilda struck out on the next pitch.

The last break for the invaders came in the ninth inning when Lucas's liner hit Schoepke in the shins and the ball bounded to Scherer on third who tossed to first to catch the Little Chute right fielder. Strick struck out and J. Lamers went out on a fly as the game ended.

TWO RIVERS COPS
Two Rivers. —(P)—With Andy Fortin, experienced southpaw, in fine form, Two Rivers whipped the Green Bay Green Sox, 4 to 2, in a Northern State league baseball game here Sunday afternoon.

Fortin was stingy with hits, limiting the Green Sox to only five scattered blows. Johnny Rowe, Bay right-hander, also pitched fine ball, but Two Rivers succeeded in garnering 10 blows off his delivery.

Two Rivers took the lead by ramming over two tallies in the fourth. Green Bay made his count when they tied up the game in the sixth with a two run spurt. Two Rivers forged ahead in the sixth and then tallied the fourth run in the seventh stanza.

Stan Smogoleski and Eddo Pueter were the slugger stars for Two Rivers.

Two Junior Legion Teams Enter Finals
Madison. —(P)—LaCrosse and Beaver Dam American Legion Junior baseball teams won their way yesterday into the state tournament to be held late this month at Eau Claire.

With Knutson pitching four-hit and two-hit games, LaCrosse downed Waukegan 7 to 0 and Watertown 4 to 0 in regional Class B games yesterday. Beaver Dam, entered in Class A, won from Verona 10 to 3.

Madison and Lancaster placed in the state tournament automatically as they had no regional opponents. Madison is in Class C and Lancaster Class A for the third district.

WINS GOLF TITLE

Joseph J. Plank, above, veteran Buttes des Morts golfer, won the senior championship of the Northern Wisconsin Golf association Saturday when he defeated C. F. Pfeiffer, Green Bay, 3 and 2.

Frank Cornelson, Green Bay, won the association's championship with a 3 and 1 victory over Clarence Hornung, Fond du Lac. Hornung eliminated Charles "Sonny" Schriber, the defending champion, John Gosin, Green Bay, defeated W. Frank Kerwin, Green Bay, 6 and 5, in the second flight. Russell Bauman, Green Bay, won the third flight over Victor Kant, Clintonville, 4-3. John Mannbach, Green Bay, took the fourth flight, 4-2, over his clubmate, V. E. Hendrie.

Lucassen flied out to start the third and Lewis whiffed. J. Lamers singled and was advanced on Baker's single, but Dombrowski flied out to leave the runners on base. The first Little Chute run came in the fourth inning. The second run came in the seventh when Lucas singled, advanced MENASHA—The Eagles shook off their ninth inning jinx yesterday and set back the Oshkosh Cubs, Northern Valley league leaders, 4-3 in a tight pitchers' battle.

Brown, Menasha hurler, allowed six hits and walked one. Kloiber, Oshkosh pitcher, yielded the same number of hits, but walked six men and it was here that his team lost the game.

Menasha scored two runs in the opening stanza when Morgan walked, Nodolney sacrificed, Kraus went to first on balls, and Buch whacked out a single. They scored another pair of runs in the fourth when Morgan got a base hit with bases full.

Oshkosh scored a run in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. Menasha played steady ball and behind Brown's dependable pitching and might have won by a greater margin had it not been for some questionable base running. Beach third baseman, got three hits out of four trips to the plate to set his batting average at .583.

NEENAH WINS, 3-2
Neenah Merchants came out on top in a close 3-2 victory over Grand Chute in the Northern Valley league Sunday at the Chute ball park.

Schultz and Noffke engaged in a hurling duel with the Grand Chute boys having the best of it for four innings. In the fifth frame, Neenah came from behind and tied the count at 2 and 2. The winning run was scored in the eighth inning when Ed Gartzke led off with a double, was sacrificed to third on a bunt by Bill Handier and crossed the plate on a long fly by Bob Jerome.

Grand Chute scored both of its runs in the second inning on a walk and three hits. The second was the only inning in which the losers had more than one hit in any one inning.

Schultz allowed six hits and struck out seven men and walked one batter while Noffke allowed eight hits, fanned nine and walked one batter.

The Merchants will tangle with Menasha next Sunday in what looks like a real battle after the Eagles topped the league leaders yesterday.

BAYS BEAT APPLETON
Green Bay—Thomas Drugs of Green Bay defeated Giesens' Taverners of Appleton 12 to 5 here Sunday afternoon in the Northern Valley league. The defeat left Appleton in a tie for the cellar spot with Grand Chute.

There was plenty of action during the game and it was on an even basis despite the difference in the score. Only after the sixth inning did the Bays hold a decided edge.

W. Murphy, on the mound for the Appleton club, allowed 13 hits but most of the runs were scored because of errors and loose playing in the infield. The sixth was a disastrous one as the Bays counted six times on four hits a walk and a couple infield errors. Vandenberg held the Appleton club to seven hits.

The Drugs started the game with two runs on three hits. Appleton scored a run in the third to trail by one run. Pope opened the fourth

Hornsby Says Yankees Are Due for a Slump

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK—(AP)—Boston reports John Montague, golf's mystery man (now in the news—and how) once was the property of the Bees and shows real promise. . . . Rip Collins of the Cubs disagrees with Bill Terry's opinion that Ducky Wucky Medwick would hit 500 if he didn't get hit by bad balls. . . . "He would not hit 500," contends Rip, "for more of his hits come on bad balls." . . . The Yankees have a jolt, or rather a slump coming if you want to take the word of smart old Rogers Hornsby of the Browns. . . .

Brooklyn Eagle's sport pages, now sprawling under the brilliant direction of Jimmy Woods, put over a couple of scoopers today. . . . They reported Eddie Butler, one-of the game by slamming a single to score Zelinski and drive Behr to the showers. The Kaw right fielder brought in the third run when Bowers socked his third hit, a double to centerfield. Vils singled and Bowers went to third. Vils stole second and Powell rapped a double to score both runners. Kozloski struck out two men and a third flied to right to end the scoring.

The final Kaukauna tally came in the ninth frame when Bowers singled and went out on a fielder's choice, leaving Vils on base. Powell lined a single to left field and Vils brought in run No. 12.

Fallen Battering Averages
It was a big night for the Kaukauna war clubs, and their swinging netted 20 hits to fatten batting averages. Manager Bowers set the pace with four hits, including a triple and double. Vils got three hits in four trips. Powell three in five. Eggert three in four and Rader three in six.

A noisy crowd jammed the grand stands and kept up an incessant chatter at the umpire's decisions and at the antics of the players and the lighting system. The game was halted twice for a couple minutes when lights went out. Zelinski got the sympathy of the crowd when he was knocked down by a pitcher's ball and Carvenagh stopped a throw with his head as he scored in the sixth frame.

Holtzsch and Thomas shared batting honors for the Drugs with three hits apiece in five trips to the plate. Both teams showed good outfielding, with Rippl of Appleton turning in the best catch of the afternoon.

Next Sunday the Giesens squad will travel to Oshkosh where it will meet the strong Cubs squad, which is setting the pace in the league.

Ex-National Net Champ Seeks Doctor's Advice

Spring Lake, N. J.—(AP)—A physical lawyer will decide whether Wilmer L. Allison, former national champion, will play any more tennis this season.

After winning a leg on the Clifford Hemphill bowl in the annual Spring Lake Invitation tournament yesterday, the Texas veteran said he would consult a New York specialist concerning two injuries which tempted him to default several times during the single competition. A bandaged right arm and an aggravated right knee had little effect on his game, however, as he defeated Ernest Sutter of New Orleans, National Intercollegiate champion, 1-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-2, in the final.

LELAND—(AP)—The Iowa family Feller—dad, mother, Pitcher Bob and pretty 8-year-old Marguerite—agreed today that whoever dubbed the New York Yankees baseball's "Murderers' Row" knew whereof he spoke.

Bob, the 18-year-old American league strikeout ace, went the route for the Cleveland Indians yesterday, held the dynamic Yankees in check for eight innings—then lost 5 to 1 to Litchal Joe DiMaggio, who rapped out a home run in the ninth inning with the bases loaded.

Cunningham Wins Another Mile Race

Barrel-Chested Kansan Outdistances Charles Fenske at Dallas

Dallas, Tex.—(AP)—Another mile run victory was on the books today for Glenn Cunningham, barrel-chested Kansan, who defeated Charles Fenske of the University of Wisconsin in the 1,500 meter event of the Pan-American games track and field show.

Demonstrating his usual strong finish, Cunningham stepped away from Fenske in the last 100 yards to win in 3:56.4. Fenske had stayed at Cunningham's elbow until the stretch sprint and finished 10 yards behind.

Ambassador Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil, inspired by the "good neighbor" spirit of the Pan-American games which were climaxed Saturday night by the track meet, told Texas and Pan-American exposition officials a drive will be started in Brazil to bring crack performers and soccer teams to Rio de Janeiro next summer.

Officials of the exposition, sponsors of this year's games, said contacts will be established with the National A. A. U. with a view to placing the games on an annual basis, with one-year intermissions during Olympic games.

A crowd of 23,000 Saturday night saw John Woodruff, University of Pittsburgh negro, race the 800-meters in world-record breaking time of 1:47.8—two seconds faster than a five-year-old mark.

In the final event of the four-day sports festival, Pat Dengis, Baltimore tool and die maker, celebrated his 37th birthday by winning the 26-mile marathon in two hours, 42 minutes and 43 seconds.

Wunderlich doubled to drive two mates across the plate. In the seventh two more runs were scored by the Merchants. Huebner got a hit and then Dietzen tripled to chase him across the rubber and when Cy Burton got his third safety of the afternoon, Dietzen counted.

Dale threatened in the eighth and counted a run. Gloeckle drew a walk and then stole second to tally when Schultz hit. In the ninth Dale had two men on the sacks and third when he took too long a lead, Cy Burton nipped him off the bag to retire the side and end the game.

Two-Day Carnival Of Conservation Body Is Concluded

Proceeds to be Used in Waupaca County Fish And Game Program

Waupaca—The Waupaca Conservation league concluded its two-day carnival Sunday evening. The event was held on the club grounds two miles east of the city.

Exhibition shooting with pistol, rifle and shotgun by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Johnson of Waupaca was a major attraction. There were also the usual concessions.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used for the winter feeding of game birds, the purchase of pheasant eggs, and the fish planting program.

Judge A. M. Scheller left Saturday for Chicago where, beginning Wednesday he will attend as a delegate the national convention of Lions clubs. The Waupaca Lions club, Charles Benier, also a delegate from the local club will leave later for the convention.

Paul Ovrom, clerk of court, accompanied by Mrs. Ovrom, left Sunday for Rhinelander to attend the conference of county clerk of courts, county treasurers and registrars of deeds. Following the conference which opens Monday they will spend a few days in northern Wisconsin.

Miss Jane Camlin of Newark, Ohio, is spending two weeks at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Browne, at "Summer-time," Round Lake.

Tom Browne has purchased the Claude Hartman property on Berlin road and is making elaborate improvements on the place. The property includes an acre of land reaching to Mirror Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Kragh left Saturday night for a week's vacation in northern Wisconsin.

The church and Sunday school of Our Saviour's Lutheran church held their annual picnic Sunday at Camp Cleghorn. Sunday school was held at 9:30 and the church service at 10 o'clock with the Rev. Henry Hanson, pastor of the church, in charge.

Germany Faces Labor Shortage

But It Isn't Expected to be Acute Enough to Cripple Industry

Berlin—(AP)—Possibility of an acute labor shortage before autumn is arousing discussion among economists and industrial leaders today. When unemployment dropped an other 285,000 during April to reach a new low figure of 961,000, labor statisticians pointed out that this really meant only 300,000 to 400,000 jobs actually were available.

It is estimated that about a quarter of a million workers on the unemployment rolls were not working again because of physical disabilities or acutely diminished efficiency arising from other causes. Then there are the inevitable several hundred thousands of workers who are naturally "between jobs" for seasonal or other reasons.

Once Germany's unemployment sinks to half a million, therefore, it is assumed the "rock-bottom" figure will have been reached. And at the present rate this is likely to happen before August.

Two factors, however, lead the German Institute for Business Research to predict that the labor shortage will not become so acute as to cripple industry:

1. Hundreds of thousands of Germans presently employed on non-essential jobs at low pay will fill essential jobs at higher pay as the need develops, and many women previously eliminated from the labor market by marriage will return to shops and offices.

2. Workers' discipline as developed in the Nazi Labor Front will forestall strikes for higher pay; competitive bidding for skilled workers and abnormal jumping from job to job.

One reason why so many women were persuaded or compelled to go back to housekeeping during the Nazi drive for more marriages is fewer married-women workers. It is estimated that no fewer than 600,000 new women workers would be available if women were encouraged to participate to the same extent as men.

Farmers Profits From Effort to Cure Hay Fever

Lyons, Neb.—(AP)—His attempt to cure hay fever made J. J. Lydy, prosperous.

Twenty-seven years ago, doctor advised him to go to the mountains for his ailment. Get out under the trees, they said, get some air. But Lydy couldn't go.

Instead, he planted a wide shelter of trees around his 240-acre farm. Friends chided him for wasting land.

But in 1936 the trees and bushes caught snow and conserved moisture. His potatoes yielded 200 bushels to the acre and his corn as high as 40 bushels while neighboring farms were stricken by drought.

Now, because of what he did for his hay fever, Lydy's farm is worth double that of nearby tracts.

17 Counties in State Report 'Hopper Pests

Estimate 712,000 Acres of Farmlands are Infested

Madison—Seventeen of Wisconsin's seventy-one counties have reported to the state department of agriculture and markets they have 712,000 acres of farmland infested by grasshoppers.

State Entomologist E. L. Chambers estimated today this total will be boosted gradually as the counties afflicted by the crop-consuming pests apply for poison bait to combat the hoppers.

He estimated 32 counties are affected by infestations.

The first 17 to request new poison supplies, and their acreages covered with hoppers are:

List Counties

Chambers said the recent federal allotment of 26,500 gallons of poison will not be sufficient to control the hoppers in these counties, but

Federal authorities have urged the state and counties to continue their poisoning operations even though crops may be too severely damaged to save. Chambers endorsed this plan, stating that it will put a check on next year's infestation.

"The hoppers can be controlled and the situation for next year improved by applying poison in pasture lands, along roadsides and in other spots where they may be hatching," he said, urging a thor-ugh eradication campaign in Vi-ss, Oneida, Ashland, Forest and ayfield counties where lack of lin has reduced the grain crops.

Chambers said red-leg hoppers hich did considerable damage in

Southern Wisconsin last year to corn, tobacco, soybeans, sudan grass, clover and alfalfa have been hatching for a week, but have not yet moved into cultivated crops.

Merchants Will Meet Kappells to Open 2nd Round

One New Team Is Ready For Play in Kaukauna Softball Loop

Kaukauna—With teams strengthened and revamped in the Twilight Softball league and one new outfit ready to take the field, the second round kettle is boiling and ready for the lid to be taken off tomorrow, when Kappells and the South Side Merchants meet in the opener at the library grounds.

Fifteen games are listed for the second round, which will end Thursday Aug. 12, according to the schedule made out by Clifford Kemp, recreational director. Ritz Kappells is the new team in the league, but the circuit remains a 6-team loop, as the last place South Side Merchants and Rinnicks combined in an effort to place one strong team on the field. That new combination will get its first test tomorrow night.

The second half schedule is as follows: Tues., July 20, Kappells vs. Merchants; Wed., July 21, Ritz vs. Thilmany; Thurs., July 22, Pantry Lunch vs. Kemkes; Fri., July 23, Kappells vs. Pantry Lunch; Tues., July 27, Merchants vs. Thilmany; Wed., July 28, Kemkes vs. Ritz; Thurs., July 29, Kappells vs. Kemkes; Fri., July 30, Merchants vs. Ritz; Tues., Aug. 3, Thilmany vs. Pantry Lunch; Wed., Aug. 4, Kappells vs. Ritz; Thurs., Aug. 5, Merchants vs. Pantry Lunch; Fri., Aug. 6, Thilmany vs. Kemkes; Tues., Aug. 10, Thilmany vs. Kappells; Wed., Aug. 11, Merchants vs. Kemkes; Thurs., Aug. 12, Ritz vs. Pantry.

Social Items

Kaukauna—Ready to spend a week in the McCarty-Flanagan cabin trailer at Shawano lake, Betty McCarty, Katie Driessen, Elaine Rohan and Gerry Mayer left Kaukauna yesterday with Cy Driessen and Mrs. Ray McCarty, who took them to the northern lake, and Misses Pat Kline and Evangeline Nettekoven, who will be chaperones to the girls.

Misses Joyce Roberts, Lucille Hoffensperger, Kathryn and Grace Van Lieshout, and Lucille Killian, chaperones left yesterday for Lower Cliff on the north shore of Lake Winnebago to spend a week's vacation in the Frank cottage.

Loyal Order of Moose and women of the Moose will hold their regular meetings tonight at Odd Fellows hall, East Second street.

Kaukauna Post No. 41, American Legion, will meet tomorrow night at Legion hall, Oak street. A report on the Independence day picnic will be submitted by the picnic committee.

Members of the Papermakers' union of the Thilmany mill and their families gathered at LaFollette park yesterday afternoon for the annual union picnic.

School Musicians to Begin Rehearsals

Kaukauna—Rehearsals for Kaukauna High school musicians will begin tomorrow after the 10-day holiday band members were given while Clarence Kriess, director, took his vacation in the Ozark mountains and at Evergreen, Col. Kriess will return today and continue with the regular schedule of instrumental lessons tomorrow morning. The regular Tuesday night band rehearsal will be held tomorrow.

The Kaukauna office of the Appleton Post-Crescent is located in the Jules Mertes barbershop on Wisconsin avenue. James Lang is the correspondent in charge and the telephone number is 107. Subscribers may call this number until 6:30 in the evening if their papers were not delivered.

Water Ski Broken And Demonstration Is Abruptly Ended

Kaukauna—A minor tragedy marked the second trial of the water ski, which Robert Driessen, 134 Sarah street, brought to Kaukauna a week ago, when one of the skis broke as Driessen was riding them, apparently having struck some object under water.

The breaking of the ski was somewhat disappointing to the people who had gathered along the river bank at Riverside park to watch the water sports, which center around the "yacht club." Leo Feller's boothhouse behind his Wisconsin avenue residence.

Spectators were not left without thrills, however, as Irvin Schatzka and Luther Grebe took to the aquaplane, towed by Feller's outboard motor boat, and did some fancy riding and took a few spills. A raft supported by oil drums was a new addition to the "yacht club's" equipment yesterday.

Delegate Leaves For Lions Meet

Kaukauna Will Send Group to Chicago for Badger Night

Kaukauna—Luke Van Lieshout, elected Tuesday to be the Kaukauna delegate at the Lions International convention which begins at Chicago tomorrow, left today with Mrs. Van Lieshout as the first Kaukauna delegate to attend the international gathering of the Lions. The 4-day convention ends Friday.

With Wednesday night at a Wisconsin night at the convention, a group of Kaukauna members plan on joining in the Wisconsin celebration at the Hotel La Salle. The group plans on taking with them a supply of Kaukauna Klub cheese as a contribution to the evening buffet luncheon, which will consist mostly of Wisconsin cheese products. Plans to make a separate Kaukauna unit fell through because of difficulty in taking the beer kegs to and from the Windy City.

Frank V. Birch, Milwaukee, who was the main speaker when the Kaukauna Lions received their charter over a year ago, will preside at the international convention, since he was elected new president of the organization at the recent Chicago conclave.

Power Shovel Will Finish Work at Plant

Kaukauna—A power shovel was ready for action today to begin cleaning out the old coffer dam around the outlet for liquids into the river at the new sewage disposal plant. Completion of this work is the main obstacle to be overcome before the plant can be put into operation.

The coffer dam was pumped free of water last week and a roadbed laid so that the power shovel can move out into the structure, which extends 15 feet into the water. The shovel will dig away the earth and stone banded around the wooden dam structure, so that it may be torn out. Work is being done by the Ray McCarty Construction company. Kaukauna, to whom it was subcontracted last week by P. and D. Milwaukee, general contractors at the plant.

Confirmation Action On Sale Is Delayed

Kaukauna—Action to confirm the sale of the Outagamie Paper mill to the municipal utility of the city of Kaukauna was deferred until next Saturday when the matter came up before county judge, Fred V. Heinemann. Saturday, at the county courthouse, Appleton.

The utility purchased the mill early this month at a sheriff's sale held at the county courthouse for $4,650 plus the back taxes of $60.50. Mayor Lewis F. Nelson and H. F. Weckwerth, head of the city utility, represented Kaukauna at Appleton when the confirmation was postponed Saturday.

PERHAPS THIS IS WHY THE WAVES ARE WILD

This isn't a photographer's nightmare. The young ladies are really good-looking and not at all big-headed. They found these masks and staged a parade near the surf in preparation for the annual Venice, Calif. Mardi Gras. Gorgeously grotesque, eh what?

Milwaukee Woman Is Engaged as Principal

Kaukauna—Miss Inez Fleischer, Milwaukee, was hired Saturday by the board of education to become principal of Nicolet school and to teach the sixth grade there, at a special meeting of the teachers' committee. Miss Fleischer will take the place of Miss Ivy Harrison, who resigned in June.

The new teacher is a graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers' college with the class of 1937, and of Riverside High school, Milwaukee, with the class of 1933. She took part in many activities at both college and high school, having been a member of the press club, art club, and the yearbook staff in high school.

At College she was editor-in-chief of the college magazine, a winner of an American Red Cross life saving badge, and a member of the college commonwealth committee.

Jobless May Register In Council Chambers

Kaukauna—Unemployment registrations and applications for compensation will be taken tomorrow in the council chamber of the Municipal building by the Appleton representative of the Wisconsin State Employment Service. Office hours will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a. m. and from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.

ACCEPTS POSITION—Robert O'Boyle, 129 Doty street, has taken a position with the Continental Commercial National bank, Chicago, and left for the Illinois city to begin his work last week.

O'Boyle was graduated in June from Lawrence college, Appleton, where he studied economics. He took part in many campus activities there and in his senior year was business manager of the Ariel, college yearbook.

ATTEND MEETING—James F. Cavanaugh and Olin G. Dyer, superintendent of Kaukauna schools and principal of Kaukauna High school, are in Madison today to attend the annual superintendents' and principals' meeting, which is being held there this week.

'Hobo Parade' to be Held Wednesday at Clintonville

Clintonville—Another in the series of weekly contests at the children's playground in Central park will take place Wednesday afternoon when a public "hobo parade" will be featured. Miss Dorothy Carter, playground supervisor, has made arrangements for the event. The judges will consider the tallest, smallest, fattest and leanest hoboes, as well as the raggedest, funniest and the most unusual hobo.

The croquet tournament planned for last Wednesday was interrupted by the rain. Horseshoe is also being played by the youngsters and a tournament will be staged at 2:30 Thursday afternoon, July 22.

At the playground during the last month, there has been a "pet show," "a doll show" and "on wheels week" as special entertainment for children. The Junior Woman's club of this city is sponsoring the supervised playground, which is proving to be a success.

Mrs. Walter Triclaiff of this city is a patient at the Clintonville Community hospital, where she is recovering from a major operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Tombs and children of Columbus, Ohio, have been guests during the last week at the homes of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Milbauer.

Lee Rockman of this city spent the last week at Appleton, where he managed a National Tea store during the absence of the regular manager, who was away on his vacation.

Mrs. Harold Heuer was hostess at four tables of bridge Friday afternoon at her home on N. Twelfth street. The games were followed by the serving of a luncheon. Prizes for high score at each table went to Mrs. James Driessen, Mrs. Eugene Schmidt, Miss Florence Nelson and Mrs. Kenneth Spearbraker.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Beggs met at their home Friday evening to surprise the former on his birthday anniversary. Three tables of bridge provided amusement, after which a lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sievers and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Olen won the prizes.

Mrs. Viola Thies and Mrs. Jake Lighthart entertained 20 guests at a bridge luncheon Saturday afternoon at the former's home on N. Main street. Honors were awarded to Mrs. Walter Sievers, Miss Jane Donley, Miss Marcella Beschta and Miss Louise Kant.

Central Circle of the Congregational Dorcas society will hold its annual picnic for members and friends at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, July 21, in Central park. A covered dish luncheon will conclude the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burns, Green Bay, spend Sunday visiting relatives in Kaukauna.

Miss Germaine Van Lieshout spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hauser and family, Milwaukee.

Dean Eater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Eater, is spending a vacation with relatives in Milwaukee.

Louis Crevier, who is employed at Iron Mountain, Mich., spent the weekend with his family at Kaukauna.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Courtney and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Renn and families visited the state fish hatcheries at Wild Rose yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Fechter, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Fechter and Frances Fechter, Newberg, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lang Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. G. J. Flanagan spent Sunday at Shawano.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eiting, Sr., spent Sunday at Shawano.

Mr. and Mrs. William Volk, Farmington, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs.

Over 100 Persons Attend Opening of Lutheran Mission

Residents of Neighboring Communities Attend First Services

Kimberly—More than one hundred persons attended the opening services of the Lutheran mission at the village hall Sunday. People from Kimberly, Little Chute, Combined Locks, Kaukauna and the rural routes out of Appleton attended.

Next Sunday in addition to the regular morning services the Rev. Willmar Wichmann, pastor, will be ordained and installed at special services at 7:30 Sunday evening. The Rev. F. M. Brandt of Appleton will be in charge of the ordination and installation and will be assisted by other pastors.

The first meeting of the women of the Holy Name parish to make plans for the annual bazaar and picnic was held Friday evening at the schoolhouse. These two events which was always held separately in recent years will be combined Aug. 22. A number of women volunteered to distribute the bazaar books at each home. Each street will be canvassed and a book left with each paying unit.

The women now are making articles which will be displayed at the outing and in addition many other attractions are being planned by the group. Many prizes will be given away. In about two weeks another meeting will be held by the parish to make the final plans for the bazaar. A committee also will be selected.

During the hot weather within the last two weeks hundreds of bathers took advantage of the swimming pool to seek relief. The pool is opened each day with the exception of Sunday afternoon on regular scheduled hours.

The rules governing the pool provide that no one is allowed in the pool alone at any time; every one must take a shower before entering; and parents may take their own children in the pool at any time providing they secure permission from the club management agreeing to accept full responsibility for their safety and the conduct of the child.

Responsibility must be assumed in writing at the counter. During the season members are permitted to invite guests, they must also sign at the counter for them. People from Little Chute, Kaukauna and nearby communities may join the club.

The rules provide that there must be no pushing, ducking or playing tag, no unnecessary yelling and smoking inside of the enclosure. Children who lose their swimming tags are penalized and must stay out of the pool for 10 days. Only those who can swim may go beyond the rope.

Mr. M. P. Varstynen of Rockford, Ill., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Zummeren, Walnut street.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Helmrath of Sheboygan visited relatives here Saturday.

A total of 27,209,579 persons entered the U. S. from abroad by auto in 1936—3,584,094 came by water.

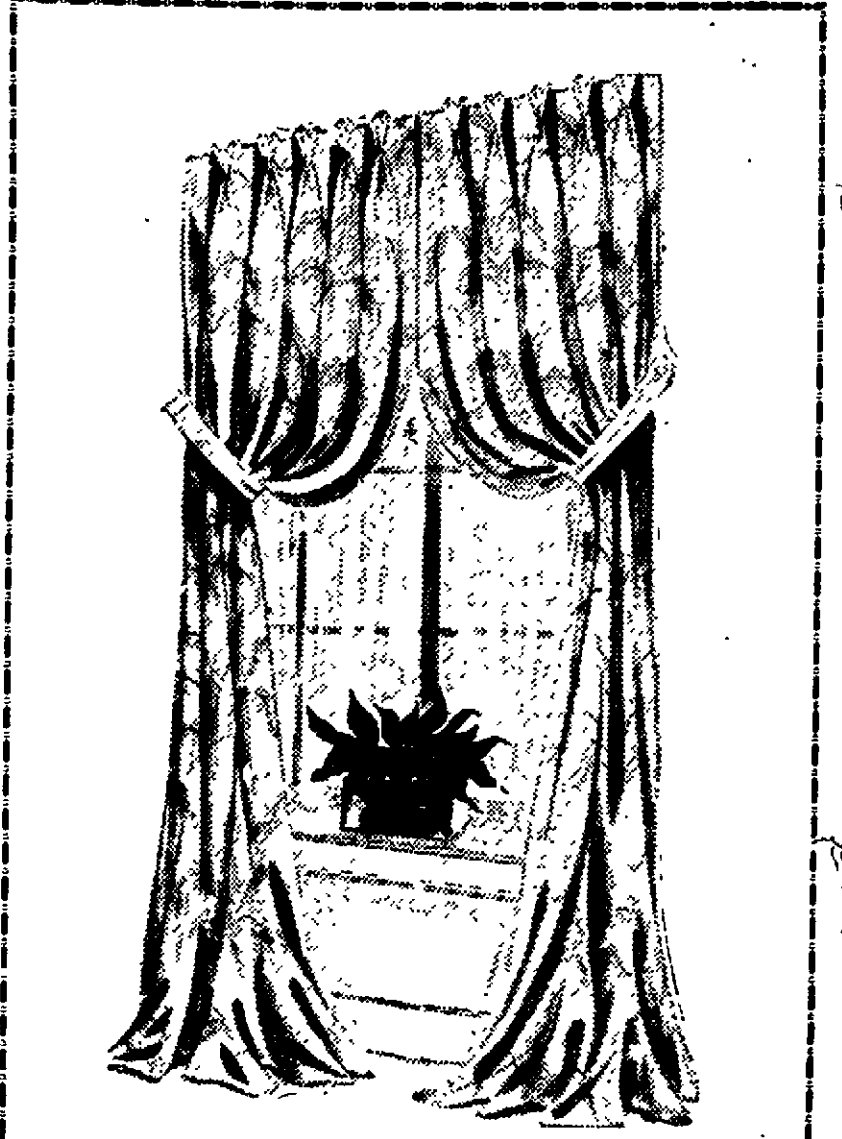

FUNERAL SERVICES ARE HELD FOR CHILTON CHILD—Funeral services for John Patrick, 7-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Kobriger, were conducted at 9 o'clock Saturday morning by the Rev. F. M. McKee at St. Augustine church. Burial was in St. Augustine cemetery. The child had been ill for 10 days. Survivors are the parents and four brothers and two sisters, Clifford, Dallas, Jerome, Donald, June and Dorothy.

IT'S THE EXTRA JACKET!
Every pack of Double-Mellow Old Golds is wrapped in two jackets—double Cellophane. That extra jacket keeps Old Golds in prime condition in any climate. You can't buy a stale Old Gold.
Seashore-proof... that's what we've found Old Golds to be! That double Cellophane wrapping keeps Old Golds fresh and untouched by the dampness.
Mrs. Marion C. De Freest (Registered Nurse) Atlantic City, N. J.
YOU CAN'T BUY A STALE OLD GOLD
It takes so little to spoil a cigarette's condition! A slight change in weather, an overlong wait on a dealer's counter! Then dampness, dust and dryness get in their work. The cigarette neither tastes good nor is good for you!
That is why the initial freshness of the rare prize crop tobaccos, blended into every Double-Mellow Old Gold, is safeguarded by a special weather-tight package. Two jackets (instead of one) of finest moisture-proof Cellophane keep this package weather-tight.
Thus, every Old Gold cigarette reaches your lips as fresh as the minute it was rolled. Rich in flavor. Mild and mellow. Cool and soothing to your throat. To keep in condition yourself... smoke cigarettes that are always in smoking condition. Smoke FRESH Old Golds!
